NORWEGIAN PLAYWRIGHT JON FOSSE WINS NOBEL LITERATURE PRIZE

Jon Fosse was honoured for his innovative plays and prose which gave voice to the unsayable, the Swedish Academy said in a statement

AUTHOR OF BOATHOUSE, MELANCHOLY I AND II

Critics say Fosse's work is minimalistic, relying on simple language that delivers its message through rhythm, melody, and silence and is defined more by form than content, where what is not said is often more revealing than what is. His major works include Boathouse, published in 1989, and Melancholy I and II (1995-1996). The former was well-received by critics | P12

HIS PLAYS AMONG MOST WIDELY STAGED

- Fosse's plays are among the most widely staged of any contemporary playwright in the world. He has written about 40 plays as well as novels, short stories, children's books and essays
- "His radical reduction of language and dramatic action expresses the most powerful human emotions... in the simplest terms," the jury said

SC grills CBI, ED on graft proof against Sisodia

Seeks chain of evidence in liquor policy scam, asks how case against him was established

JAISON WILSON @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday questioned the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and the Central Bureau of Investigation over the "chain of evidence" in the Delhi excise policy case against jailed Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) leader Manish Sisodia, asking how a case was made out against the former Delhi deputy chief minister.

A bench of Justices Sanjiv Khanna and S V N Bhatti asked Additional Solicitor General S V Raju, who appeared for the probe agencies how the ED will establish Sisodia's involvement in money laundering factually and legally. "He may be aware it may be used, as per your case, but he never came in actual physical possession," the court said during Sisodia's bail hearing.

Raju argued Sisodia played a key role in generating proceeds by orchestrating the policy change. To this, the bench replied: "You have to establish a chain. The money has to flow from the liquor lobby to the concerned person."

The bench said most of the allegations in the corruption case registered by the CBI against Sisodia were "hearsay", based on the statements made by approvers and would not pass scrutiny before the trial court without any concrete material.

Merely because some lobby or pressure groups had sought a certain policy change does not imply there was corruption or commission of crime unless an element of bribery was involved, the top court said.

"Pressure groups are always there but policy changes without money consideration will not matter. It's the money part which makes it an offence," the bench said.

Appearing for Sisodia, senior advocate Dr A M Singhvi said a query by the bench to the ED on Wednesday, as to why the AAP or its office bearers have not been made an accused in the money laundering case, was widely sensationalised by the media. To this, court said that it would not get influenced by the media and clarified that it was a legal question.

NEXT HEARING ON OCT 12

The Supreme Court is hearing two separate bail petitions of Manish Sisodia. The court will take up the matter for further hearing on Oct 12

NDA call to play 'Rohini card' against caste survey

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

AMID a growing clamour from Opposition parties to hold a nationwide caste census, the Centre may implement the recommendations of the Rohini panel as a countermeasure to consolidate the Other Backward Classes (OBCs).

With the Narendra Modi government remaining ambivalent on holding caste census, NDA allies Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party (SBSP), Apna Dal (S) and the Republican Party of India are pushing for implementation of the Rohini panel report at the earliest.

The Justice G Rohini-headed panel was tasked with the sub-categorisation of OBCs to ensure equitable redistribution of reservation and other benefits among the communities.

According to sources, the panel has categorised the 2,600-odd OBC communities into three bands and fixed 8-10% reservation for those groups that haven't availed reservation benefits for long. The panel found that 983 castes received no benefits, while 994 jostled for 2.68% of the 27% of the quota pie.

REPORT AFTER SIX YEARS, 14 EXTENSIONS

The Centre had formed the Commission in 2017 to sub-categorise the OBCs and submit a report within 12 weeks. The Commission, headed by ex-chief justice of Delhi High Court G Rohini, submitted its report to President Droupadi Murmu on July 31, 2023 — six years after it was constituted, and following 14 extensions

The BJP has been on the back foot ever since the Bihar caste survey revealed that over two-thirds of the state's population belonged to "backward" communities.

Speaking to this newspaper, SBSP chief Om Prakash Rajbhar expressed hope that the Modi government will conduct a nationwide caste census and implement the Rohini panel report at the earliest. "The Rohini panel report may be implemented before the election," said Rajbhar, adding that it is important to know the count of the communities to know the level of deprivation.

Apna Dal (S) leader and Union minister Anupriya Patel has raised the issue several times in Parliament. "Apna Dal has always demanded a caste-based census and we continue to do it," she said recently.

Republican Party of India leader and Union Minister Ramdas Athawale told this newspaper that he does not agree with states conducting caste surveys and that the Centre should do a nationwide caste census.

Tenders for B'luru tunnel road project in 45 days, says DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Thursday said tenders will be invited within 45 days for the proposed mega project of 190-km tunnel roads to ease traffic congestion in the city.

Of the nine companies, which had evinced interest in the project, eight have been selected. They have been asked to give feasibility reports soon, he told reporters here.

Shivakumar, who is also Bengaluru Development Minister, said several companies had submitted proposals for the mega project. "We received ideas and suggestions on road infrastructure, congestion relief, tunnel roads and road widening. We had suggested that capital should be brought in for the project. As the mega project was open to international players, nine companies evinced interest in it," he said.

BBMP TO FILL POTHOLES BY NOV 30

Shivakumar said the BBMP engineers should take the help of traffic police and fix the potholes. "I have asked Palike officials to fix the potholes by November 30," he said.

Since it is a mega project and requires huge funding, it will be implemented in stages. Ballari Road, Old Madras Road, Esteem Mall Junction to Mekhri Circle, Millers Road, Chalukya Circle, Trinity Circle, Sarjapur Road, Hosur Road, Kanakapura Road to Krishna Rao Park, Mysuru Road to Sirsi Circle, Magadi Road, Tumkur Road to Yeshwantpur Junction, Outer Ring Road, Goraguntepalya, KR Pura, and Silk Board area have been identified on priority basis, Shivakumar said.

The State Government will seek help from the Centre. A proposal will be submitted once the companies give their feasibility reports. "I have already discussed the project with Union Minister Nitin Gadkari as vehicles enter Bengaluru from the national highways and cause traffic congestion in the city. He has responded positively," Shivakumar said. P2

33% quota for OBCs in ULBs, panchayat polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE State cabinet on Thursday approved the recommendation of the Justice Bhaktavatsala Commission to grant 33% reservation for Other Backward Classes (OBCs) in urban local bodies (ULBs) and panchayat elections. However, the quota should not exceed 50%, the Commission stated in its report.

Revealing this to reporters after the cabinet meeting, Law Minister HK Patil said the Commission made five recommendations in July last year. Of them, three were accepted by the cabinet on Thursday.

He said as per the present classification of OBCs as Backward Classes Category A and Category B, the aggregate of reservation in favour of the Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and Backward Classes should not exceed 50% of the total seats. The cabinet approved the Commission's second recommendation to consider reserving the posts of Mayor and Deputy Mayor in the BBMP for OBCs, Patil said.

No change in term

The cabinet rejected the recommendation to amend the KMC Act for other ULBs to provide a 30-month term for Mayor and Dy Mayor.

On the third recommendation, Patil said the cabinet gave its approval to bring all urban local bodies' election wings under the control of DPAR, which is under the CM. Asked if this will not affect the autonomy of the State Election Commission?, Patil said the Commission's autonomy will not be touched. All these years, facilities such as offices and vehicles were given by RDPR, which will now be under the DPAR.

The cabinet also rejected the reclassification of Backward Classes Category A and B into two more categories of BCs.

DyCM for property tax on govt offices

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

DEPUTY Chief Minister DK Shivakumar said on Thursday that the State Government is contemplating bringing in a new system of property tax collection as it is not happy with the existing one.

As part of the new system, it will be made mandatory for offices of the State and Union governments to pay property tax, he told reporters here.

Shivakumar said every property has to be scrutinised to know if its owner is paying tax accordingly or evading it.

"We are not satisfied with the existing tax system as only Rs 3,000 crore is being collected. So, we are thinking of a new system of tax collection. I have written to those concerned that government offices should also pay property tax," he said.

Pointing out that HAL has paid Rs 93 crore tax, he said he has instructed state government offices such as KPTCL to pay property tax. "Let's collect taxes from the government first. We have to discuss Mohan Das Pai's recommendations on taxation," he added.

Shivakumar said all properties, including houses, will be scrutinised as some commercial establishments now pay taxes applicable for residential properties. To a query, he said the self-assessment of property tax can't be termed effective. It is not as effective as expected, he added.

CROSS DISCIPLINARY

Coming soon, Department of Spiritual Medicine at AIIMS Delhi

ASHISH SRIVASTAVA @ New Delhi

India's premier healthcare institute, the All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), has just formed a committee to recommend a roadmap for a department on spiritual medicine. Sections of the staff and faculty panned the decision, claiming it was deviating from evidence-based approach.

AIIMS Delhi issued an order stating that it should create new-cross disciplinary departments in transplant medicine, medical education and spiritual medicine.

The committee has been asked to give its recommendations by the end of October.

If the proposal fructifies, AIIMS will become the first government healthcare institute to open such a department which is not a branch of modern medicine.

Sections of the faculty, however, see it as "anti-science". "It's against scientific temperament and will put this premier health institute in a poor light," a senior professor said on condition of anonymity. The institute has been promoting anti-science activities for months and now it has decided to legitimise it in the form of a department, the professor added.

Dr Rima Dada, AIIMS spokesperson, said the proposal is in a nascent stage. It will take an integrated approach and aid the modern medicine departments. Yoga and Reiki will be part of it. There was, however, no clarity on the faculty who would run the department.

She pointed out that University of Michigan and Yale School of Medicine already have dedicated courses for spirituality in science. The institute is also planning to introduce spirituality in MBBS, according to sources.

Brand B'luru ideas pour in, work to start soon

City will be pothole-free by November 30, overhead cables to be snipped; Satellite city in Bidadi likely, says DKS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

DEPUTY Chief Minister D K Shivakumar, who is also Bengaluru Development and Town Planning minister, on Thursday informed that about 70,000 suggestions had been received with regard to 'Brand Bengaluru'. On October 9, there will be large-scale deliberation with the stakeholders, following which work will start.

He told reporters at Vidhana Soudha that Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) engineers should work with the help of traffic police to quickly repair potholes, and take action to ensure there are no accidents due to potholes. Public can also inform the BBMP commissioner, he added.

"I have given all engineers and contractors the task to sort out the issue of congestion in storm water drains, as rain may start soon. They should fill all potholes before November 30," Shivakumar said.

The government has built 350km of TenderSURE roads at a cost of Rs 10 crore per km but they are not being used, though underground cables have been allowed on this road. "So everyone should use it. However, the cables are flying above. If these are not used legally, our authorities will cut the cables," he warned.

Meanwhile, he informed that a proposal of Rs 3,000 crore has been submitted to the World Bank for disaster management and urban flood mitigation, which will be cleared. "In the coming days, we are ready to complete flood infra, and a Rs 250-crore proposal has been submitted to the National Disaster Management Authority," he claimed.

He informed that the head of the Planning Commission is likely to visit Outer Ring Road on October 7, following the traffic jams that happened recently.

About construction of a satellite city to reduce the pressure on Bengaluru, Shivakumar clarified that "for now, we have decided to build it on priority in Bidadi and discussed the matter with MLAs and MPs".

Committee checks pollution levels in water bodies

MOHAMMED YACOOB

THE Standing Committee for Rural Development Panchayat Raj (RDPR) and local bodies on Thursday, inspected Bengaluru city lakes and waterway projects. The committee was inspecting the pollution levels in the water bodies, sewage, the treatment plants and their functioning. They also monitored the treatment method adopted to ensure that the saturation point of oxygen is maintained at 10 degree Celsius. The committee headed by Chairman Bharmagouda Kage will submit their recommendations to the state government soon.

The committee started its inspection with the K-100 waterway project at Shanthinagar, and culminated at Koramangala-Chalghatta Valley (KC Valley).

> The STPs should be upgraded with disc membrane filters to ensure water quality is maintained. All the storm-water drains and shoulder drains should be free from pollution and raw sewage.

> Sharath Bachegowda, Panel member

Sharath Bachegowda, who was present for the inspection said "The water bodies like lakes are polluted only when drains and sewage diversion channel let out untreated sewage." The committee observed that there are 20 Sewage Treatment Plants (STPs) in Bengaluru, and noted that treated water with only the prescribed level of oxygen should be allowed into lakes. "The STPs should be upgraded with disc membrane filters to ensure water quality is maintained. All the storm-water drains and shoulder drains should be free from pollution and raw sewage. Only treated water and rain water should be allowed to flow in them," he added

The committee visited Chandapura Lake in Anekal Taluk, which was included in list as the National Green Tribunal, and had slapped a penalty of Rs 500 crore on the state government, for failing to protect the lake from industrial pollution. The Minor Irrigation Department officials were asked to report the steps taken to address the lake pollution, and protection from encroachments.

They also visited Varthur Lake where the BDA has undertaken rejuvenation work, and has cleared up to 95 percent silt, and also visited TZ Apartment complex in Whitefield, to see the latest state-of-the-art sewage treatment plant installed in the apartment complex. The complex is also said to be using only treated water for all its daily needs.

The inspection ended with KC Valley at Bellandur, as the water from here is being sent down stream to fill tanks in Kolar district.

Grand farewell to Kumar Naik disrupts work at BDA offices

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

WORK at the BDA head office at Palace Guttahalli and other divisional offices was disrupted for three hours on Saturday because of the grand farewell function for outgoing Commissioner Kumar Naik.

Engineers and officers from four divisions of the BDA participated in the function, causing inconvenience to the people. PwD CAN BANK ON 'PURPLE RIDES' FOR CUSTOM SERVICE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

COMMUNITY-driven auto-hailing app Namma Yatri joined hands with Enable India, an NGO working for Persons with Disabilities (PwD), to provide hassle-free mobility service across Bengaluru. The aim is to enable drivers to understand and customise assistance for users with visual, hearing or physical impairment.

'Purple Rides' was launched in the city on Thursday. It has over 3,500 customers and more than 1,300 drivers, and has completed over 6,000 rides on a trial basis. The initiative, which is claimed to be the first ever in India, is gaining momentum.

"India has an estimated 4-5 per cent of PwD, which translates to a population of around 6 crore. Accessible mobility isn't a convenience, it's crucial for education, employment and social engagement. Most ride-hailing apps overlook disability-friendliness. What began as a feedback session for improving accessibility within the Namma Yatri app evolved into a deep collaboration with Enable India," said representatives of Namma Yatri.

Mallika, a 32-year-old with visual impairment who has completed over 40 rides with Namma Yatri, said, "Namma Yatri empowers me. The option to indicate my disability and thoughtful app customizations make every ride a breeze."

Shanti Raghavan, founder and chief enabler of Enable India, said, "We are taking a giant step towards a future where mobility barriers can be overcome. Our journey encompasses educating drivers and providing sensitivity training tailored to the unique requirements of PwD."

Namma Yatri auto drivers said that they are satisfied helping, and their small efforts can make a big difference in someone's life.

Cybersecurity for safer automotive vehicles

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Indian Institute of Science (IISc) will be developing automotive cybersecurity solutions in partnership with Tata Elxsi to address the challenges in complex in-vehicle networks that drive the modern-day experience of smart automobiles. The focus will be to detect and prevent potential security threats and anomalies, and to also predict future threats in more advanced vehicles.

The IISc scientists will leverage artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) skill set from Tata Elxsi, and their software-defined vehicles (SDV) & EV solutions to help mitigate challenges including increased theft cases, remote control tampering, and siphoning personal information. Researchers will also develop automotive vehicle technologies and network security, smart grids, and other critical systems. AI and ML-based intrusion detection will be used to detect threats in automotive vehicles.

Manoj Raghavan, CEO & MD of Tata Elxsi, said that the company recognises that the automotive industry's future depends on secure vehicles and trust. "As vehicles increasingly rely on digital technologies, cybersecurity becomes paramount. With this partnership, we are sure automakers and our clients can build safer, more resilient vehicles," he added.

Advances in vehicle-to-vehicle and vehicle-to-anything (V2X) connectivity have created critical problems which are now being addressed by companies through research.

6th October: I find it distressing that more and more of us are unable to see the night sky as a result of light pollution. The campaign for dark skies protests against the excessive use of street lighting in cities which makes it impossible for so many urban folk to see the splendour of the stars. It's well worth supporting. If you live in the country, well away from the nearest town, then I envy you.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
All people of goodwill can take advantage of favourable circumstances. This really is a rather special time astrologically for all twelve signs, not just for you. You are well-placed in many ways because you will be helped on your way by the rest of us. Lucky old you!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
The pressure is on at work and at home, not for the first time, and not for the last. To look at your long-term trends it now seems clear that personal change will move faster than professional. And, to that extent, you might well soon decide that it's time to move on.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You seem to be slightly isolated, but I don't think that's a bad thing. After all, it's the world that's out of step, not you. Others may be leaving you behind, but that's their problem: as they rush through life, they'll miss a great many of the opportunities you pick up.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Foreign connections, overseas contacts, legal questions and educational considerations, should now be almost settled, but not quite. You may like to wait and see what the next few days bring before reaching a final verdict. Perhaps what seems like a great idea today will look a little doubtful tomorrow.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Long-term planetary cycles are now at a critical point, one which will be repeated in exactly two months' time. You may plan ahead in the knowledge that you have no less than six months to establish the pattern of your affairs for a long time to come.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There are still some very strong words to be spoken concerning the nature of your current commitments, and there may not be much point in expecting everyone to agree. But then, why should they? It's good to hear a variety of opinions, and the end-results can only be good.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
You may feel you're not having your share of fun, but don't bemoan your fate. It may seem paradoxical, but you're now entering a period of three years during which you will have to work hard to enjoy yourself. I'll explain what I mean by this over the coming months.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may wish to take a risk at work, or in any treasured ambition. Make the most of your very special individual talents and don't be cowed by authority or tradition. Also, in relationships, give romance a high priority. By that I mean that you should aim for the best.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
The time has come to decide where you are going - literally. You may be tempted by the prospect of living or working in foreign parts, far from home. Whether this is realistic or not is quite another matter, but you can always work to make it happen.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It is said that the best business people are born under your sign, in which case the moment of truth has now arrived. According to your long-term cycles, you are now in a phase of private austerity and public extravagance. I think you'll have to exceed your budget before long!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A whole new world is opening up. Right now you may be too bemused by daily concerns, such as cash, or the lack of it, to see what is really happening. It may even be the end of next month before it all becomes blindingly obvious. Until then, carry on as normal!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
If you are caught up in a web of intrigue, the cause probably lies in your own reluctance ever to say 'no'. One thing you can be sure of now is that you have a chance to improve family relationships. If you regret a past action, take the lead and say you're sorry.

Wife behind hubby's murder, bus ticket nails culprits

A three-day-old KSRTC bus ticket has helped the police in cracking a murder case in Kumta. A case was filed after the body of a person was found behind a temple in Devimane Ghat on Sirsi-Kumta highway on September 30. The body was that of Bashir (40) which had injuries inflicted by sharp broken pieces of metal used in supporting the tiles on the roof of buildings.

The Kumta police, which began the probe, did not get any missing report filed. But the recovery of the body had confirmed that Bashir was brutally murdered. Then the ticket which was found in the pocket of the victim gave the first lead to the police who sent a team to Musigere in Gajendragad taluk of Gadag district where it was confirmed that the deceased had visited Gajendragad recently.

The bus ticket confirmed that Bashir had travelled with another person. Detailed investigation proved that his co-passenger turned out to be his wife Razma.

"Our investigation revealed that Razma did not like Bashir. They were married a few years ago and have two children. Bashir came in contact with one Parashuram in Badami where he had gone to sell his sheep a few months ago. He was introduced to him by his cousin Kasim. Parashuram became friends with Bashir and also got acquainted with his wife. With the motive of eliminating her husband, Razma took Parashuram into confidence and gave him Rs 10,000 to murder Bashir on September 26," C T Jayakumar, Additional Superintendent of Police told TNIE. The police suspect that Razma had an illicit relationship with Parushuram, which Bashir objected to, and both frequently quarrelled over the issue.

The bus ticket recovered from the body of the victim | EXPRESS

To execute the murder plan, Parushuram travelled to Mangaluru. He took Bashir along with him and another friend Ravi to meet Adesh, a friend of the accused. "Here, they stayed with Adesh and together they went to Panambur beach, where Parushuram revealed his plan of murdering Bashir. Adesh advised him not to do it in Manguluru and instead suggested to take him to Devimane Ghat where the body can be disposed behind the temple. He even dropped them at the bus stop and informed the driver and the conductor to halt at Devimane Ghat near the temple. Accordingly, they alighted near the temple on September 29," explained Additional SP Jayakumar.

The accused made Bashir consume liquor before murdering him and dumped his body there, which was found the following day.

The police top brass has congratulated the team headed by Police Inspector Thimappa, Sub-Inspector Naveen Naik and others for solving the case in a short span of time. All the accused have been arrested. Further investigation is on.

COURT MATTERS

Feeding strays shouldn't cause inconvenience to other citizens, says HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

NOTING that the duty cast upon the citizens who are feeding stray dogs in unidentified places should not cause any disturbance or health hazard to fellow citizens, the Karnataka High Court observed that no citizen came forward to assist the local administration in the yearly vaccination and sterilization of stray dogs, or to assist the animal welfare organisations in providing them health care.

The division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice Krishna S Dixit made this observation while referring to the guidelines on pet dogs and street dogs issued by the Animal Welfare Board of India (AWBI), which suggests the participation of people who feed stray dogs, in the sterilisation and vaccination of dogs, during the hearing of the petition filed by advocate Ramesh Naik L seeking directions to implement the Animal Birth Control (Dogs) Rules 2001, and AWBI guidelines.

The court noted that this petition was filed in May 2022, and time was granted to the state government to file a statement of objection as a last chance in January 2023. But till today, no statement has been filed.

"We are surprised to see this approach of the state government and we can safely say that the state government's non-responsive approach not only results in delay, but is also an embarrassment for the law officers representing the state before the court. The state government is expected to mend its ways and to see that the instructions are provided to the law officers, so that necessary responses are filed in this court within reasonable time", the court said.

The government advocate sought further time to file a statement, saying that some district administrations and local bodies had failed to submit their response. The court granted three weeks time with a warning that it will pass orders against the state government if statement not filed.

The left hand of Manjula had got injured in an electric fodder-cutting machine around 11.30 am on October 1. Her left hand's thumb, index finger, middle finger and ring finger were completely severed. After getting first aid at Kolar, she was rushed to Hosmat hospital around 3 pm (four hours after the injury).

Her relatives had brought the severed fingers to the hospital wrapped in a gauze and placed in an ice box.

Dr Thomas Chandy, Chairman and Chief of Orthopaedics, Hosmat Hospital, said, "Dr Kannan Karuppiah Kumar, Hand and Microvascular Surgeon, and Dr Deepu N K, Plastic and Microvascular surgeon, performed the surgery using a special operating microscope (which enlarges the tissues 10-20 times). The arteries of the fingers are the size of thin cotton threads. All severed arteries, veins, nerves and tendons were reconstructed and broken bones were fixed using surgical wires."

The surgery lasted 12 hours and the patient is on a blood thinner to prevent clotting in the reconstructed blood vessels. She has also been given antibiotics. Punjab farmer held for laundering money in K'taka hacking case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

OFFICERS of the Special Investigation Team (SIT), probing the multi-crore Bitcoin case and similar offences, have arrested a farmer from Punjab in connection with the 2019 case of hacking of the e-procurement portal of the Karnataka government.

The accused has been identified as Harwinder Singh of Kapurthala in Punjab. The SIT, led by CID Additional Director General of Police Manish Kharbikar, arrested Singh from Punjab on September 29. He is currently in judicial custody. "Harwinder Singh has been arrested for his involvement in laundering the proceeds of the crime," Kharbikar told TNIE. He said two others -- Nitin Meshram of Nagpur and Darshit Patel of Gujarat – were also arrested recently. The total number of persons arrested in the case has reached 21.

In December 2019, an official of the state government's e-procurement cell lodged a complaint with the Cyber Crime Police Station of the CID, stating that unknown persons had hacked the portal and initiated unauthorised fund transfers causing a loss of several crores of rupees. In November 2020, notorious hacker Sri Krishna alias Shriki, who was arrested in an NDPS case, emerged as the prime accused in the case. Shriki is also the main accused in the Bitcoin case. "While Shriki had hacked the portal and transferred the funds, other accused had helped him to transfer the funds to various bank accounts charging a commission and laundering the proceeds of the crime. Though Shriki did not know Harvinder Singh directly, the latter was involved in the case after Sushil Chandra, another accused in the case, approached him," an officer said.

K'taka briefs central team on 'green drought'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government on Thursday requested the inter-ministerial central team to consider the 'green drought' prevailing in the state and urged that the assessment be made based on factors like crop growth and yield. The 10-member team is on a visit to Karnataka to take stock of the drought situation and assess crop loss. Karnataka Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda said that the government has urged the team to reconsider existing drought norms, especially for small and marginal farmers.

Speaking to the reporters after the meeting with the central team, Gowda said that the rain deficit in the state is 28% since June. Severe shortage of rain in June and August has hit farming affecting crops, he said. "In some places, there is green cover, but the yield has come down. We have informed the team of this green drought which is unusual, and urged them to check this during their field visit," Gowda added.

Green drought is when the vegetation may appear green on the top, but there is stunted growth and soil moisture stress for more than a month impacting yield drastically. This phenomenon is particularly problematic because it can be challenging to detect and monitor. Gowda said the height of a tur plant, which is still green, has come down to 2.5ft as against the normal 5ft. "The yield has fallen. Usually, each bunch of green gram will have 200 gm yield. This has come down to 50 gm now," he said.

He also said that the State Government officials along with scientists from University of Agricultural Sciences will accompany the central teams.

The State Government earlier had declared 195 taluks as drought-hit, including 34 taluks as moderate drought-hit. On September 22, the state cabinet approved the drought memorandum and it was submitted online to the Centre on the same night, he said, adding that of the remaining 41 taluks, 32 received less rain. "As per Central guidelines, about 15 taluks may be eligible to be drought-hit. So, on Monday the cabinet subcommittee will meet again and send the second list of about 15 taluks for ground verification, as part of the process to declare them as drought hit," he added.

He also said though there are 15 states which are facing drought, only Karnataka has declared drought and approached the Centre so far.

"Though our actual loss is estimated to be close to Rs 30,000 crore, as per central norms, Karnataka has sought Rs 4,860 crore," he said. Karnataka Agriculture Minister N Chaluvarayaswamy, Cooperative Minister Rajanna and others were present.

Satisfied that we protected crops of our farmers, says DKS

Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar addresses the media in Bengaluru on Thursday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

BENGALURU: Deputy Chief Minister D K Shivakumar here on Thursday claimed that the Congress government has protected standing crops in the state despite witnessing a distress year. Speaking to reporters here, he said Karnataka needs 106 tmcft of water but only has 56 tmcft in the reservoirs in the Cauvery basin. "The rain in the last couple of days helped increase inflow into the dams. But now it is decreasing. We have protected the standing crops. It is a matter of satisfaction. Drought has been declared in the state and we have advised farmers not to sow any crops in the near future. It is likely to rain again next month. This is a distress year," he said. Reacting to murmurs about the CM not defending him over the Cauvery issue, Shivakumar said that as water resources minister he has been defending himself. ENS

Take steps in interests of farmers: CM to team

BENGALURU: CM Siddaramaiah asked the central team to take suitable measures in the interest of farmers of Karnataka. Speaking to the officials of the central team, the chief minister explained the drought situation. The farmers are suffering due to lack of rain in the state and 90 % of the crop has been sown, of which over 42 lakh hectares have suffered crop damage, the CM informed the central team. Farmers' fields are green but there is no yield, he told them explaining the prevailing situation. The team must understand the situation and convince the Centre so that they can quickly respond to the plight of the farmers in the state, the CM stated. Due to the lack of rain in Kodagu district, the water level in the KRS dam is low and the state needs 33 tmcft of water for drinking purposes, he said. ENS

Tangadagi: Committed to safeguarding farmers

BENGALURU: Kannada and Culture Minister and Tungabhadra Irrigation Consultative Committee chairman Shivaraj Tangadagi said Tungabhadra dam has 53 tmcft storage and they have decided to release 4,100 cusecs to the left bank main canal till November 30 to protect crops. Speaking after the Irrigation Consultative Committee meeting, the minister said they decided to release water in the interests of farmers. He said the water will be released to the canals depending on the storage and inflows into the dam. He said the government is releasing water to farmers as promised earlier and though there is a shortfall in the storage and decline in inflows, there is no need for any concern among the farmers. He said they will also appeal to the Andhra Pradesh government to release its quota of 1 tmcft. ENS

BC leaders meet, seek meeting with Siddu to make report public

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A group of leaders of the 70 'most backward communities' met at the Legislators' Home on Thursday, and sought a meeting with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday. They will urge him to fix a clear date and make the Kantharaj Commission report public, said former chairman of the Backward Classes Commission CS Dwarkanath, former IAS officer Srinivasa Achary and former member of the Kantharaj Commission KN Lingappa.

They said the leaders would later meet Backward Classes Commission chairman Jayaprakash Hegde, and urge him to pick a date to make public the Kantharaj Commission report. The then government had spent about Rs 170 crore on the report.

Hegde said, "There is a serious legal hurdle to disclosing details because the member-secretary has not signed the report, so we cannot make it public." But sources said there is another serious concern — the Kantharaj Commission report that was submitted, is missing from the Backward Classes Commission office.

Sources said there are soft and hard copies as backup, but backward community leaders said, "The original document signed by the members is missing. It is a very precious document and needs to be safeguarded adequately against tampering, or being rewritten according to the convenience of the government."

Asked about the missing document, Hegde told The New Indian Express, "We have a hard copy of the document, which the member secretary has not signed."

"Backward communities have expressed serious concern about gross under-representation," Dwarakanath said. The most backward communities — Kuruba, Besta/Mogaveera, Golla, Edigaillava, Devanga, Kumbara, Madivala and others — who together number close to 50 per cent of the population, have said that they have not got their due.

Only three ministers from the backward community, including CM Siddaramaiah, are part of the ministry, and are seriously under-represented. They pointed out that if one goes by community numbers, they need to have at least 10-12 ministers even in the worst circumstances. They say that many communities have zero representation in the political system and pointed to the recommendations of the report that all need to be represented equally. They said that most of the backwards do not have a single MLA from their communities, and make up an average of about 4-5 per cent of the population."

Somashekar opposes BJP-JDS tie-up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

FORMER minister and BJP MLA ST Somashekar on Thursday opposed the saffron party's tie-up with Janata Dal (Secular) for the upcoming Lok Sabha elections. The Yeshwantpur MLA also hinted at quitting the party saying that he will take a call once the alliance was officially declared. "I fought against JDS all through my political career... in six Assembly elections. Many BJP and JDS MLAs are also against the alliance but are not speaking in the open," he told reporters in Vidhana Soudha.

He claimed that his supporters in the past were harassed by JDS workers and hence it is not possible for them to coordinate in the LS polls. Patil asserted that he will express his opinion even in the BJP meeting. "What happened during 2019 when Congress and JDS forged an alliance? They won only one seat," he said, predicting that even the JDS-BJP alliance will meet a similar fate.

When asked about his supporters joining the Congress, he said BJP workers in constituencies like Padmanabhanagara represented by former minister R Ashoka, RR Nagar and Dasarahalli, represented by former minister Muniratna and MLA Muniraju, respectively, have also joined the Congress.

STATE BJP president Nalin Kumar Kateel on Thursday alleged that a terror organisation was behind the Ragigudda incident, and youths engaged in terrorist activities were part of the procession.

Kateel visited the riot-hit areas and McGann Hospital to enquire after the health of the injured, and later told reporters that it was a planned act, and houses of the majority community were targeted. The fact-finding committee had collected information from eyewitnesses. After the Congress government assumed power in the state, such incidents were reported in five or six places, but the government is yet to initiate a judicial probe, he said.

Kateel alleged that the police department had failed to remove controversial banners that were part of the procession. During the riot, stones were thrown at the SP and police had no protection. Houses of only one community were targeted, he added.

The youths who took part in Ganeshotsava were assaulted and even those who tried to rescue the youths were assaulted. Cases were also filed against women who rushed to rescue them. This incident was not sudden, but planned, he alleged.

He claimed that when the BJP was in power, stringent action was taken when Praveen Nettaru and Harsha were killed. "The cooker bomb blast case was handed over to the NIA, but this government is planning to withdraw cases against those who were part of the DJ Halli and KG Halli incidents. The Congress government is supporting terror activities, the PFI and SDPI," he added. Demanding that the government arrest all those behind the Ragigudda incident, he said more women than men were assaulted.

Former DyCMK S Eshwarappa, Dr Ashwath Narayan, Araga Jnanendra, MP B Y Raghavendra were present.

MULTIPLE teams of Income Tax officials on Thursday searched educational institutions and properties linked to two groups, including one belonging to DMK MP S Jagathrakshakan, sparking protest from the ruling DMK which called it an assault on democracy.

While I-T sources maintained that the search, currently on in nearly 40 locations, has nothing to do with politics, Tamil Nadu Chief Minister M K Stalin dubbed it as 'vindictive politics'.

Taking to X, the CM said, "The Union BJP government's vindictive politics knows no bounds! Arresting AAP MP Sanjay Singh and raiding DMK MP Jagathrakshakan's home are clear examples of its misuse of independent investigating agencies for political ends against INDIA bloc leaders. This is deliberate persecution of opposition leaders. The BJP conveniently forgets that the Supreme Court has just warned the ED to be transparent and fair. Earlier in the day, the second of three sessions of the Murti Pratishtha (idol consecration) ceremony was presided over by His Holiness Mahant Swami Maharaj to mark the consecration of the idols of Ram, Sita, Hanuman, Lakshman, Shiva, Parvati, Ganesh, Kartikeya, Krishna, Radha, Tirupati Balaji, and the revered lineage of Bochasanwasi Shri Akshar Purushottam Swaminarayan Sanstha (BAPS) spiritual gurus. The third idol consecration will take place along with the grand dedication ceremony of BAPS Swaminarayan Akshardham on October 8, according to a press release issued by BAPS.

The Interfaith Harmony Day event brought together representatives from Islam, Christianity, Judaism, Hinduism, and Buddhism, and was a testament to the core principles of Akshardham, wherein unity emerges from diversity, and the common threads that bind humanity together are celebrated with reverence and appreciation.

Throughout the event, attendees engaged in interfaith dialogues, prayers, and cultural exchanges through a vibrant and enlightening experience highlighting the shared values, ethics, and principles that connect individuals across religions.

The Interfaith Harmony Day was a vivid reflection of faith, unity, and selfless service, showcasing the power of faith to bridge divides and strengthen the bonds of humanity, for which Akshardham serves as a platform.

His Holiness Mahant Swami Maharaj expressed his joy in seeing the gathering of various spiritual and religious leaders, stating: "We share the same sky, the same earth. We breathe the same air, drink the same water, and we are all God's children. This is the message of Akshardham."

Addressing the audience, Pujya Brahmaviharidas Swami said, "We believe that the essence of religion is harmony, and this forms the core belief of Hindu dharma, Sanatan Dharma ... We may be birds of different feathers and different flights, but we all belong to the same nest on this Earth, which is our spiritual home."

Bishop Darin Moore, Chair of Governing Board of the National Council of Churches said, "We are truly on holy ground today. This monument that has been erected, the wonderful way in which the architects have given so much detail is awe-inspiring. But what makes this powerful most of all is the people who are part of this great movement."

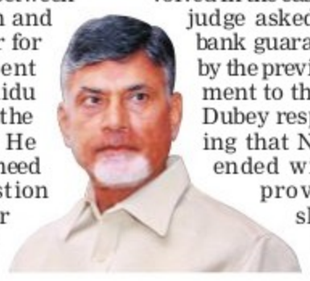
₹27 crore transferred to TDP's accounts from shell cos, CID tells court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayawada

THE ACB court in Vijayawada on Thursday adjourned the hearing of former Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu's bail plea and CID's custody petition in connection with the skill development case to Friday.

Appearing for the CID, Additional Advocate-General (AAG) P Sudhakar Reddy submitted documents related to bank transactions and emails as proofs of the alleged swindling of funds through shell companies. Referring to the documents, he said that an amount of ₹27 crore was transferred to the bank accounts of the TDP from the shell companies after funds were transferred to them from Andhra Pradesh State Skill Development Corporation (APSSDC).

Sudhakar Reddy argued that there was a variance between the Cabinet decision and the MoU signed later for the skill development project, and that Naidu was responsible for the lapses in the MoU. He said that there was a need for the CID to question Naidu on a few other financial transactions related to the alleged scam. The AAG informed the court that the concerned auditor had been asked to appear before the investigating agency for questioning on October 10.



Citing Article 14 of the Constitution, the AAG stated that a chief minister and a common man are equal before the law and one can't swindle public money by using his position. "The skill development case is a serious economic offence and Naidu has misused his position as the Chief Minister," he contended in the court. Opposing the petition to grant bail to Naidu, the AAG said that the former Chief Minister orchestrated and executed the scam in the APSSDC and sought extension of Naidu's custody for deeper investigation.

Earlier in the day, Naidu's counsel Pramod Kumar Dubey stated the TDP chief wasn't involved in the case. When the judge asked about the bank guarantees given by the previous government to the APSSDC, Dubey responded saying that Naidu's role ended with the approval of the skill development project.

Approve revised spend of Polavaram: Jagan to Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Vijayawada

UNDERSCORING the need for the early completion of the Polavaram project, Chief Minister Y S Jagan Mohan Reddy appealed to Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman to approve the revised expenditure of the project, amounting to ₹55,548.87 crore, as per the price index of 2017-18. He reminded her that the Technical Advisory Committee had already cleared the said expenditure of the project.

The chief minister held talks with Sitharaman on the first day of his Delhi tour on Thursday. He also called on the Union Minister of Power RK Singh over various issues relating to the state.

During his meeting with Sitharaman, Jagan thanked the Centre for approving the release of ₹12,911.15 crore ad hoc amount following the repeated appeals from the State government to take forward the works of Polavaram project. He informed her that the State government prepared fresh estimates in connection with the works to be taken up under the first phase. As per the Lidar survey, the government should release an amount of ₹17,144 crore for implementing the R&R package for the people affected in 36 colonies, he said while urging Sitharaman to release the amount for the completion of phase-1 works. The Chief Minister also sought the Centre to reimburse the arrears amounting to ₹1,310.15 crore incurred by the state government from its exchequer on the project.

Andhra Pradesh CM Jagan Mohan Reddy calls on Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in New Delhi on Thursday

Jagan further requested the Finance Minister to take effective steps to ensure that the Telangana government cleared an outstanding amount of ₹7,359 crore for the power supplied between 2014 and 2017. Stating the issue remained pending in the High Court despite the Centre directing Telangana government in 2022 to clear the dues in 30 days, the Chief Minister sought Sitharaman's intervention to resolve the matter as it had created a massive burden on APGENCO and other Discoms.

On the second-day of his visit to the national capital, Jagan will call on Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday. He is likely to apprise him of the political situation in the State following the arrest of Naidu in the skill development case.

Welder kills wife, tries to pass it off as suicide

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A 27-year-old welder allegedly murdered his wife and attempted to pass off the death as suicide, by hanging her from a ceiling fan in Yelahanka New Town police station limits.

The deceased is Rekha, a 23-year-old homemaker and mother of a seven-month-old child. It is alleged that she was assaulted and mentally tormented for not providing money to her husband Santosh and his family, to buy a property in the city. Santosh and his family were allegedly demanding money from Rekha's parents.

On Wednesday, the two argued over the same issue. Agitated, Santosh killed Rekha with an iron rod and hanged her with her saree, in an attempt to evade police arrest. He then locked her in the room and went to have a bath, and pretended to be unaware of the incident, the complaint filed by Rekha's mother says.

During interrogation, Santosh said he went to take a bath and returned to find the room locked. When he forcibly opened the door, he found that his wife had hanged herself, police said.

The couple reportedly knew each other since high school and got married two years ago, after moving to the city from Tamil Nadu. They were staying in a rented apartment in SFS area with their son.

A case was registered with Yelahanka New Town police under IPC Sections 304 B (dowry death), 302 (murder), and 34 (criminal act by several people with common intention). Investigation is in progress.

PRAVEEN NETTARU MURDER

K'ataka HC denies bail to 3 accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court rejected the bail petition filed by the three accused for the murder of Praveen Nettaru, who was the District Executive Committee member of BJP Yuva Morcha in Dakshina Kannada.

The petition was filed by Ismail Shafi K, K Mohammad Iqbal and Shaheed M, who are accused no. 9, 10 and 11, respectively. A division bench of Justices HB Prabhakara Sastry and Anil B Katti recently passed the order dismissing the appeal filed by the accused questioning the order of rejection of their bail pleas by the special court on April 29, 2023, and further directions to release them on bail.

"It can be held that there exists sufficient incriminating evidence against the present appellants to show their active involvement in the alleged crime. The materials placed by the prosecution, at this stage, leads us to an opinion that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the accusations against the appellants are prima facie true," the HC said.

The accused were allegedly involved in murdering Nettaru, who owned a shop at Mastikatte of Bellare village in Sullia taluk, on July 26, 2022, with an intention to strike terror among the people in the locality. Initially, the case was registered by the local police and later was handed over to the National Investigation Agency (NIA), considering the gravity of the offences and their inter-state ramifications. During investigation, the NIA learnt that Nettaru was killed in retaliation to the killing of Masood in an assault at Kalanja village on July 19, 2022.

The appellants contended that the allegations made against them were baseless and lame. They are innocent and have been falsely implicated. At the stage of investigation conducted by the state police, their names had not figured. However, the NIA has created a false story alleging that Shafi and Iqbal, who are leaders of SDPI, gave provocative speeches at Masood's funeral, stating that they would take revenge for his killing, by killing prominent leaders of the other community through their organisation, the appellants claimed.

The Special Public Prosecutor for NIA submitted that the chargesheet clearly mentioned the appellants' role, who are members of the 'Service Team' of Popular Front of India (PFI), which undertakes work of identifying, keeping track and killing identified people. The provocation committed by the appellants has been clearly narrated by the protected witnesses.

It's DMK vs BJP for LS: Annamalai

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

TAMIL Nadu BJP president K Annamalai on Thursday asserted that the field is open for DMK versus BJP in Tamil Nadu for the forthcoming Lok Sabha elections and the results will show the strength of the saffron party in the state. The remarks made by Annamalai and other leaders in the meeting of the district presidents and senior officers indicate that the BJP is gearing up to face the LS polls by forging alliances with like-minded parties and will not look up to the AIADMK anymore.

Asked whether he is throwing a challenge as to whether it is AIADMK vs BJP in the Lok Sabha elections, Annamalai said, "No. It is DMK vs BJP here because DMK is the ruling party in Tamil Nadu and BJP is the ruling party in New Delhi. The contest is between us. I have been saying this for the past two years. We will highlight the Modi government's achievements before the people. The DMK would have completed 35 months in power when it faces the Lok Sabha elections. So, people will assess the DMK's government performance in this election."

Annamalai and former union minister Pon Radhakrishnan who met the press separately declined to list names of the Tamil Nadu political parties existing now in the NDA.

UPTICK IN CONSUMER DEMAND AUGURS WELL FOR A FESTIVAL SPLURGE

CAR and fast-moving consumer goods (FMCG) manufacturers are celebrating the boost in pre-festival sales and are hoping the revival in consumer demand will persist in the coming Dussehra-Diwali period. Car manufacturers reported they dispatched 3.63 lakh passenger vehicles in September, an increase in sales of 2.5 percent over the 3.55 lakh units clocked a year ago in September 2022. A combination of factors—better availability of semiconductors and a spectrum of new launches—have contributed to the growth. One can also see a simultaneous improvement in sales of FMCGs—a bellwether indicator of the state of consumer demand. Anecdotal evidence from company filings indicates a 8–12 percent growth in the FMCG market, driven by a better-than-expected monsoon and selective price cuts by manufacturers.

Though car sales have improved only marginally by 2.5 percent over last year, car manufacturers ended September with the best-ever quarter results. What has surprised many is the continuing robust sales despite the creeping rise in prices of most of the popular models. More money in the pockets of farmers thanks to a near-normal monsoon and higher crop production, as well as a buoyant urban consumer sentiment, have kept overall demand ticking. The most important indicator of increasing sales is the 10 percent rise in collections of goods and services tax (GST), at ₹1.63 lakh crore in September as compared to ₹1.47 lakh crore in the same month last year.

After a Reserve Bank of India survey for August this year showed a dip in consumer confidence, there seems to be a bounce-back. A Deloitte study for September reported 51 percent of the respondents were ready to spend on festival shopping. As many as 75 percent said they were willing to spend on non-essentials like travel and entertainment. The festival euphoria is likely to see this trend continuing, but as we have seen in the past, consumer confidence can quickly drop when buffeted by unexpected headwinds. We must also realise we have a long way to go as these figures reflect growth from a low, post-Covid base. The Indian consumer is extremely sensitive to price hikes and inflation, and bottles up on spending if he sees difficult days ahead. Industry representatives must hold the price line and not allow greed to get the better of them. The government too must keep inflation in check to ensure the graph of consumer spending keeps moving up.

IISc INVENTION A STEP TOWARDS WATER SECURITY

SCIENTISTS at the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) have recently developed a new lab-made enzyme that mimics natural enzymes in effectively degrading toxic chemicals in industrial wastewater in the presence of sunlight. This has the potential to revolutionise water treatment as large quantities of the life-giving liquid can now be recycled.

Wastewater is a huge asset if managed properly. Almost 80 percent of water supply is recycled into the ecosystem as wastewater, which can pose environmental and health hazards if not managed properly. According to the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB), urban India generates 72,368 million litres daily (MLD) of wastewater, of which only 28 percent is treated and reused. Effective treatment and recycling of wastewater can go a long way in meeting the ever-increasing demand for non-potable water—which is where the lab-made nano-sized enzyme, called nanozymes, can significantly boost water treatment processes. This will also reduce the need for setting up expensive water treatment plants.

The East Kolkata Wetlands—one of the 75 Ramsar sites in India—has been a model wetland where locals have shown the importance of treating the city's wastewater. They utilise the treated water for pisciculture and agriculture by recovering nutrients, saving Kolkata the cost of constructing and maintaining wastewater treatment plants. While nanozymes were not used there, these catalysts can enhance the process in terms of treated water volumes and the speed of treatment at wetlands as well as at sites where effluent-ridden water is spewed out by industries. Enzymes are proteins that catalyse biological reactions in living systems. In wastewater, they break down and transform harmful contaminants into benign biodegradable parts. But to produce natural enzymes in large quantities is a problem due to the current production techniques, which are not only time-consuming but also expensive while yielding minuscule amounts. The IISc invention has changed that. Unlike natural enzymes, nanozymes can be produced on an industrial scale at minimal costs and can be stored for up to 75 days at room temperatures, as against their natural counterparts which need -20°C temperature for storage. It is the right time for pollution control boards in states and at the centre to grab this opportunity as it is a significant step towards a water-secure future.

QUICK TAKE

TOILET ACCESS NEEDS DISTRICT PUSH

A new World Bank study shows toilet access across India has improved remarkably since 2014. Government data and independent studies support the claim. Toilet use in rural Jharkhand, a laggard on the score, went up from 16 percent in 2015 to 60 percent in 2021. But a few states have reversed some of the early gains. Access has fallen in Uttar Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Telangana, Gujarat and Karnataka since 2018. The dip can be traced to a few districts and some of the poorest communities in those states. Better facilities and regular promotion of health benefits in those districts can set the numbers back up.

Extremely backward communities need to have their own leaders. Their fate cannot be hitched to stars of the well-off OBCs

DESPITE CASTE CENSUS, EMPOWERING EBCs NOT AN EASY TASK

RADHIKA RAMASESHAN

Columnist and political commentator

SOUMYADIP SINHA

AS conception and conviction, the Bihar caste count—officially termed as a comprehensive caste survey or CCS—opened the doors and windows to another phase of empowerment of the Other Backward Classes (OBCs). The CCS's socio-economic significance lies in its potential to bring redistributive equity to a vast swathe of the population classified as the Extremely Backward Classes (EBCs), particularly in the Hindi heartland which lies far behind the curve ascended by the social reformers and political radicals of the south who struggled hard and attained a measure of parity for the OBCs and EBCs in the education and job sectors.

The CCS nailed down a well-kept secret that Bihar's political parties were always privy to: that OBCs and EBCs cumulatively formed over 63 percent of the state's population, marking an increase of over 10 percent from the estimates in the 1931 caste census. Together with a revised figure that put the Scheduled Caste (SC) population at 19.5 percent (3.5 percent more than the 2011 census count), the OBCs, EBCs and SCs overwhelmingly dominate the demography, with the upper castes or 'savarna' down to 15.52 percent.

Uttar Pradesh, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Rajasthan, Haryana and Himachal Pradesh—part of the cow belt—await a similar census to carry forward the corollary obtaining from the 1990 implementation of the epic Mandal Commission's report, which paved the way for the statutory empowerment of the OBCs through reservations in education and employment in government. The execution was skewed in that reservation selectively benefitted those castes that had reached a certain measure of economic parity with the non-reserved castes thanks to the scrupulous enforcement of the land ceiling law and a vibrant cooperative movement in UP. Therefore, these groupings that primarily comprised the Yadavs, Kurmis and Lodh-Rajputs were better positioned to cream off the spin-offs of the 27 percent OBC quota and with time, evolved into an elite class that, however, has to catch up with the confidence levels of the dominant 'savarna'.

Therefore, the crux of the issue, wrapped in bare-bones statistics, is that in the thirty-three years after Mandal agitated the political, social and economic hierarchy of the heartland, the EBCs stayed largely out of its ambit. To this humungous population, quotidian living was as intense a struggle as that for the Dalits. Indulging in politics was as much of a luxury for them as aspiring for a higher social station was unthinkable.

While the Yadavs, Kurmis and Lodh-Rajputs could dream big and realise part of their ambitions, principally in politics, the EBCs have a long way to travel before evolving an independent political consciousness. The well-off OBCs minted a powerful line-up of leaders that included Lalu Prasad Yadav, Nitish Kumar, Mulayam Singh Yadav, Kalyan Singh and their heirs. The EBCs are still in the process of seeking their leaders unless an Om Prakash Rajbhar or a Sanjay Nishad (UP) or a Mukesh Sahani (Bihar) emerge to champion and coalesce caste interests around their personas. The parties they formed still represent limited identities and are not placed to become independent entities.

Redistributive justice will become a reality only if the CCS's inferences are less tinged by politics and shaped more by genuine intent. Just as Mandal 1.0 became a tool for its political votaries and detractors to grandstand, the temptation to tread the same path with the Bihar survey is palpable. Nitish Kumar, the chief minister, can justifiably claim that as a legatee of Karpoori Thakur, who first created a space for the OBCs, he is steering Thakur's initiative to its logical culmination. Rajiv Ranjan Singh, Kumar's confidant and the national president of his party, the Janata Dal (United), articulated the possible political spin-offs in a media interview, suggesting that the CCS will be a dominant theme in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. He claimed Kumar set the agenda and a similar demand will emanate from other states, turning CCS into a major issue.

For some time, reports indicated that Kumar, who convened the first meeting of the Opposition's Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance or INDIA, felt he was not accorded the primacy he deserved. By pegging the Opposition's blueprint to caste and the centrality of a national caste census, Kumar might well be on the way to regaining his salience in the INDIA coalition. He has the Congress on his side with Rahul Gandhi's recent discovery of the OBCs and his attempt to position himself as their saviour. This after the Congress virtually slept through the post-Mandal era, hoping that its traditional upper caste-Muslim-Dalit axis would stand it in good stead. This coalition has unravelled.

To be noted is that while the CCS exercise is aimed towards bringing the underempowered EBCs within the post-Mandal gamut, if leaders such as Nitish and Lalu Prasad placed themselves front and centre and spoke on behalf of the marginalised EBCs, is there any scope for fostering the next logical steps to raise and nurture an independent leadership from these communities? Will their fate be forever hitched to the stars of the well-off OBCs? Mandal 2.0 might not pan out in the way that some visionaries imagine because of the multiplicity of entrenched and conflicting interests at every level.

The usually proactive BJP was perceptibly out of whack after Patna lobbed the caste bomb. Unlike the Congress, the BJP was quick to grasp the complex dynamics set off by the Mandal panel. The party deployed the best possible counter-strategy in the circumstances. It first worked on the OBCs who were sidelined by the ascendancy of the Yadavs, such as the Kurmis and Lodh-Rajputs, and constructed a base to which other backward castes were added to raise a pyramid that helped the party shed the identification with the upper castes in people's perception. The BJP's pro-OBC strategy touched its apogee with the anointment of Narendra Modi, who comes from Gujarat's backward caste Teli or oil-pressers, as the PM.

The BJP has yet to fashion a cogent response but the statements contained in Modi's public addresses in Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan indicated that the cohesion associated with the leadership's articulation was missing. His line of attack was framed as a battle between the "poor" as a homogenous mass versus the EBCs and OBCs, which was out of tune with his recent offensive depicting the Congress as anti-backward castes.

Since the nineties, the BJP's success lay in its adept marriage of the two major strands of contemporary politics: Mandal and Kamandal, the latter symbolising the water pot used by ascetics as a metaphor for political Hindutva. Like the Congress, the BJP will perforce have to court and co-opt the smaller identity-based parties in the heartland to augment the scope of its social alliances. It's a challenge but given the BJP's history of perfecting caste equations, the task is not beyond its purview.

SAVING FORESTS AND WILDLIFE GOES HAND IN HAND

B K SINGH

Retired principal chief conservator of forests (head of forest force), Karnataka

FORESTS and wildlife have a symbiotic relationship. One cannot be saved without the other. National Wildlife Week is celebrated every year from October 2 to October 8, and so it is time to review our efforts and actions towards management and conservation.

The World Meteorological Organization recently said that the world experienced the hottest July in 2023, breaching the July 2019 record by 0.33°C. The Earth experienced the second-hottest August this year. The temperature records from January to August show that 2023 is set to be the warmest year and global warming is poised to exceed 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels.

As a result, the pledge made at the 2015 Paris Climate Accord to limit the warming to 1.5°C will be broken. But that is not all. The Indian Meteorological Department stated that August 2023 saw the highest rainfall deficit since 1901. Winter this year is likely to be warmer, and wheat production is set to take the blow.

Developed countries are squarely responsible for global warming. The developing countries are the victims of the consequences such as slowed food production, storm surges, flooding and droughts. These countries have also not received any financial assistance from developed nations to adopt climate-resilient prescriptions and achieve an expeditious and large-scale transition to green energy. Their dependency on fossil fuels cannot be curtailed for at least a decade. Even developed countries like the United Kingdom have extended the deadline for the ban on sale of new petrol and diesel cars from 2030 to 2035, in utter disregard to their commitment towards Net Zero by 2050.

To tackle global warming, capturing carbon and saving existing forests are essential. Afforesting degraded and denuded areas will help capture more carbon and also provide a home for displaced wild animals. The best way to preserve and develop forests is to conserve wildlife.

After the Paris Climate Accord, India committed to restore 26 million hectares of degraded land in the country by 2030; this move will help create a carbon sink of 2.5–3 billion tonnes. Our forests currently contain 7.2 gigatonnes of CO_2 equivalent. Reforestation will also create additional habitats and corridors for wild animals. But more efforts are needed in this direction.

Forests are subjected to destructive human activities like illicit cutting, lopping or girdling of trees, grazing, fires, and encroachments. This leaves forests degraded and fragmented, displacing the wildlife. Livestock grazing on forest land depletes the feed and forage for wild animals. Even the Supreme Court has observed that wild animals have the first right over forests, ahead of the right of any community to extract non-timber forest products or use the area for livestock grazing. But the problems do not end there. Repeated fires in forests have led to the growth of invasive species, preventing regeneration of favoured plant species and depleting forage.

Due to the depletion of forest cover, wild animals stray into areas occupied by humans. Measures to tackle this have not been very successful, with conflicts ensuing between humans and animals

The degradation and fragmentation of forests has led to wild animals straying out of reserves, resulting in human-wildlife conflicts. The forest department has been implementing several mitigation measures, but has not been fully successful. Barriers like rails, elephant-proof trenches and solar fencings are damaged by a section of people, rendering the entire effort meaningless. Awareness campaigns are slowly bearing some fruit, but they need to be stepped up.

The department must restore the lost habitats and corridors. The Karnataka forest minister's recent drive to go after encroachers of forest land is heartening. The minister is on track to clear the encroachments and plant the areas with suitable native tree species. It will help restore habitats and corridors, reducing the number of wild animals straying into human areas. Karnataka's chief minister said that forest cover must be expanded to 33% land; this will further boost the programme.

However, there are some bright spots too. The latest estimates suggest that tiger and elephant numbers have gone up, and we have achieved our global commitment ahead of schedule. But the loss of area for tigers to inhabit is a matter of concern.

Further, forest fires have become a global challenge. Canadian wildfires burned almost 34 million acres of land. Instances of fire have also been reported in Italy, Greece, Spain, China and Russia. Nearly half a gigaton of carbon was released from burning boreal forests in North America and Eurasia in 2021. Thus, quite a lot of carbon is released into the atmosphere. Repeated heat waves in the northern hemisphere have fuelled wildfires. This has harmed human and wildlife health and disrupted people's lives, taking a toll on the environment. In the southern hemisphere, the Antarctic Sea ice melted and the global sea surface temperature rose unprecedentedly.

Forest fires lead to a double whammy. While we release greenhouse gases into the atmosphere, we lose space for carbon sequestration and further create bigger problems for wild animals. Although mammals can escape, reptiles and amphibians can get killed in fires. Climate change is disrupting our lives and livelihood. Forests must be saved and in this, wildlife conservation plays an integral part.

AFTER a glittering and high-voltage debut in Kolkata in 2019 and an equally successful return in 2022, where 15 women were awarded for their path-breaking contributions to their profession and impacting the society positively, The Devi Awards was back again this year to felicitate 12 more such dynamic women.

The Devi Awards was started in 2014 with the vision to recognise the contributions of women from all walks of life who have triumphed in their respective fields and uplifted fellow women and men in their respective journeys. After 23 chapters in Mumbai, Delhi, Kochi, Lucknow, Bengaluru, Bhubaneswar and Chennai, the Devi Awards came to Kolkata for the first time on August 31, 2019 to celebrate women achievers from Kolkata, and Eastern India in general.

Neha Periwal, director, The New Indian Express Group and Event Express, welcomed the guests saying, "In this venerable land of Bengal, the primordial deity has always been Kali or the divine mother — even the trinity being subordinate to her. In India, we have believed Devi personifies all that is divine, as the universal mother. We, at The New Indian Express Group, uphold that strong independent women are the backbone of the nation. We act on our beliefs by organising the Devi Awards. Our devis are those women who have had the inner strength to overcome obstacles and achieve their end goals."

This year, the event saw an engaging session with Rongili Biswas, singer and academician, and Jaya Seal Ghosh, dancer and actress. It was moderated by author and senior journalist Kaveree Bamzai of The New Indian Express Group — on the influence and inspiration of art, culture and the performing arts in contemporary society. While Biswas mentioned the impact of arts in shaping politics and vice versa by mentioning her father Hemango Biswas, Ghosh commented on the power of art in unifying people.

CWC to discuss caste census, women's quota on October 9

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

Meeting to adopt stand on support to AAP leader

As some opposition leaders belonging to TMC, DMK and AAP are facing heat from Central agencies, the meeting may discuss strategies to counter the BJP government on this front. The top Congress leadership is also expected to take a call on extending support to arrested AAP leader Sanjay Singh in the Delhi excise policy case in the meeting. Chief ministers of Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh will also attend the meeting.

THE Congress Working Committee, the apex decision-making body of the party, will meet on October 9 to discuss and chalk out campaign strategies for the upcoming assembly elections in five states.

This will be the second meeting of the CWC after Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge reconstituted it on August 20 this year. The first meeting took place in poll-bound Telangana on September 16.

The meeting is likely to deliberate on key issues such as women's reservation, caste census, seat-sharing between INDIA parties and misuse of Central agencies against Opposition.

According to senior leaders, party cadres are upbeat as it is seeking to retain power in Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan, hoping to replace the BJP in Madhya Pradesh, BRS in Telangana and the Mizo National Front (MNF) in Mizoram. Recently, Congress MP Rahul Gandhi had exuded confidence that the Congress is winning in Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan and Madhya Pradesh, while they have a chance in Telangana. Some of the surveys have also shown that Congress has upper hand in three states. The senior leaders are also expected to discuss caste census, the main electoral plank of Congress in the poll-bound states. During the campaigns, Rahul Gandhi has been consistently making the demand for a pan-India caste census and the inclusion of Other Backward Classes (OBC) within the ambit of the Women's Reservation Bill. While the party is hoping to corner the BJP on caste census, senior Congress leader Abhishek Singhvi's stand on the issue led to some discomfort in the party. Singhvi had maintained that those batting for rights on the basis of population should understand its consequences, asserting that it will lead to majoritarianism. Though the party distanced itself from Singhvi's view, it wants all the leaders to be on the same page.

The meeting is also likely to deliberate on the seat-sharing arrangements between the constituents of INDIA bloc. Interestingly, during a media conclave on Wednesday, NCP chief Sharad Pawar said that AAP chief Arvind Kejriwal was willing to give three out of seven Lok Sabha seats in Delhi to Congress. Both parties are still at loggerheads after Congress MLA Sukhpal Singh Khaira was arrested by the AAP government in Punjab.

As some opposition leaders belonging to TMC, DMK and AAP are facing heat from Central agencies, the meeting may discuss strategies to counter the BJP government on this. They will also decide on extending support to arrested AAP leader Sanjay Singh.

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah on Thursday said there is a need to not only combat terrorism but also dismantle its entire ecosystem. He further stressed that all anti-terrorism agencies must adopt a ruthless approach so that no new terrorist organisation is formed.

After inaugurating the 3rd Anti-Terror Conference organised by the National Investigation Agency (NIA), he said the Narendra Modi government's tough decisions and stand taken against terrorism have yielded results in handling challenges posed by crypto currencies, hawala, terror-funding, organised crime syndicates and narco-terror links.

"It is a fact that under the leadership of PM Modi, the Central and state agencies have succeeded in firmly curbing all forms of terrorism in the country in the last nine years. The model anti-terrorism structure should be established under the purview of NIA and the hierarchy, structure and SoPs of investigation of all anti-terrorism agencies in all states should be made uniform for better coordination between Central and state agencies," he said.

He also emphasised on the need of designing a common training module to ensure uniformity in the methodology of combating terrorism.

In the last five years, the present government at the Centre has prepared several databases to be used to investigate, prosecute, prevention and act against terrorism, Shah said.

He said the task of NIA, Anti-Terrorism Squad, and Special Task Force should not only be limited to investigation but also to think out of the box and take innovative measures to counter terrorism.

He further said the fight against terrorism requires collaboration from the global level to the grassroots. "To deal with terrorism, the Centre and the states, their agencies and inter-agency cooperation will have to think in vertical and horizontal ways," the minister said.

India has to factor in assertiveness of China: CDS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

Chief of Defence Staff General Anil Chauhan delivers the annual General KV Krishna Rao memorial lecture in New Delhi on Thursday | EXPRESS

CHIEF of Defence Staff General Anil Chauhan on Thursday said China's assertiveness is more evident now with its rise and that India will have to take this aspect into account in its overall strategic calculus.

Delivering the annual General KV Krishna Rao memorial lecture, India's senior most military officer said the country's strategic autonomy should be towards exploiting opportunities. "While the global geopolitical environment is in transition, India has transitioned from non-alignment to self-alignment," said the CDS, referring to India's "major dispute" along the northern borders with China.

"The strategic autonomy may be relevant to exploit opportunities rather than taking care of your threats. That's where the future should lie. We should be thinking about opportunities more," he said.

"This comes with a little bit of a caveat because of the northern neighbour. In this strategic calculus, India will have to take into account the emergence of China as a major power," said the CDS.

"China's assertiveness is more evident with its rise. India has a major dispute on its northern borders with China and will have to play the strategic autonomy card," he added.

Referring to the existing flux in the global geopolitical order, General Chauhan also underlined the need for India to continue maintaining "strategic autonomy" in its approach and highlighted how New Delhi was moving forward from its approach of "non-alignment" to an era of being a Vishwa-mitra — a friend to the world.

The CDS cited India's nuclear tests in 1998, its "neutral and a nuanced" stand on the Russia-Ukraine war and the decision to go ahead with procurement of S-400 missile systems from Moscow notwithstanding threats of sanctions as examples of the country exercising its "strategic autonomy."

"I believe India has transited ahead from non-alignment of yesteryear to self-alignment or multi-alignment," he said.

Summarising India's journey of being non-aligned to that of exercising strategic autonomy, Chauhan said, "It can be based on what I can say three S. First is securing India, the next is self-reliance and finally, shaping the environment to India's advantage," he said.

Chauhan underlined the significance of economic aspects of global geopolitics, saying the global balance of power can be shifted by economic alignment and even issues such as morality, righteousness and convergence of global interests.

"In India's famous epic Mahabharata, Lord Krishna shifted the balance of power towards the Pandavas. The military might went to the Kauravas but it was only his righteousness and sage advice that shifted the balance of power," the CDS maintained.

General Chauhan said that the global geopolitical environment is currently in a state of flux and India must exercise its options looking at its national interests.

Geopolitical order

Referring to the existing flux in the global geopolitical order, General Chauhan also underlined the need for India to continue maintaining "strategic autonomy" in its approach and highlighted how New Delhi was moving forward from its approach of "non-alignment" to an era of being a friend to the world. He cited India's nuclear tests in 1998, its "neutral and a nuanced" stand on the Russia-Ukraine war and the procurement of S-400 missile systems from Moscow as examples of the country exercising its strategic autonomy.

BJP, Congress wage poster war on social media

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

THE ruling Bhartiya Janata Party (BJP) and opposition Congress on Thursday got engaged in a "poster war" on social media platform X (formerly Twitter) with Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and Prime Minister Narendra Modi being portrayed in sarcastic lights.

In a poster on X, the BJP depicted Gandhi as a "new age Ravan", triggering strong criticism from Congress that called it totally "unacceptable" and "downright dangerous".

The BJP's poster came against the backdrop of Congress posting a picture of Modi with the caption "The Biggest Liar" and another calling him a "Jumla Boy", who was "Going to hit the election rally soon".

Responding to the Congress' poster, BJP shared a photoshopped picture of Rahul Gandhi with several heads and captioned it as "Bharat Khatre Mein Hai (India under threat) — A Congress party production. Directed by George Soros". Referring to Gandhi, it said, "The new age Ravan is here. He is Evil. Anti-Dharma. Anti- Ram. His aim is to destroy Bharat".

The heated argument between the two parties intensified when Congress general secretary in charge of communications Jairam Ramesh alleged that BJP's portrayal of Gandhi was intended to incite and provoke violence against the former Congress chief whose father and grandmother were assassinated by forces that wanted to divide India.

"What is the real intent of an atrocious graphic portraying Rahul Gandhi as Ravan by the BJP's official handle?"Ramesh posted on his X handle.

"It is one thing for the PM to give evidence daily of being a pathological liar and of suffering from a narcissistic personality disorder. But for him to get his party to produce something this obnoxious is not just completely unacceptable but is downright dangerous," he said.

Ramesh later posted on X a cartoon showing Mahatma Gandhi, Sardar Patel, Subhash Chandra Bose and Jawaharlal Nehru among ten heads of Ravan and showed Savarkar and Shyama Prasad Mukherjee as Ram and Laxman, aiming at them with a bow and arrow.

"This cartoon was published in 1945 in a leading magazine, whose editor was Nathuram Godse. Gandhi and Congress have always been their target," Ramesh said on X.

AICC general secretary (organisation), K C Venugopal too alleged, "They withdrew his [Rahul's] SPG protection to score petty political points. After evicting him from his secure residence, they haven't allocated another house that he has requested for".

"All this points to a well-planned conspiracy of the BJP to eliminate their fiercest critic, someone who attacks the very core of their hate-filled ideology," Venugopal alleged.

Meanwhile, Indian Youth Congress president Srinivas B V uploaded another poster portraying Modi as "MODANAV".

"The new age MODANAV is here. He is Evil. Anti Democracy. Anti Constitution. Anti People. Anti Humanity. His only aim is to destroy Bharat and the idea of INDIA," it said.

As the battle lines between the two main parties are getting drawn in the run-up to the 2024 Lok Sabha elections, their leaders have intensified attacks against each other.

Canada 'cracks whip' on Khalistanis, India firm on downsizing diplomats

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

Brampton arrests

The arrests of the Sikh youths came after reports of shots being fired in Brampton surfaced. Search operations showed the youth were in possession of firearms. The info about these youths reportedly came from a local gurdwara. All those arrested are between 19-26 years of age and have been charged with "possession of loaded or prohibited or restricted firearm."

AMID reports that at least eight Canadian Sikh youths were rounded up in a week in Brampton — all charged with firearm-related offences by local law enforcement — India continued to persist with downsizing Canadian diplomatic missions in the country to maintain parity with Indian diplomats in Canada.

"As we have said in the past there is a high presence of Canadian diplomats in India and they interfere with our internal affairs. In keeping with that, we expect the Canadian diplomats to downsize and leave," said Ministry of External Affairs (MEA) spokesperson Arindam Bagchi.

Reports suggest that October 10 is the deadline for these 41 diplomats to leave India.

Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau has recently said that his country wanted to continue to engage with India and not escalate the situation. However, New Delhi continues to believe that until Canada categorically counters the allegations that Trudeau has made, it should not step back and resume issuing visas to Canadians.

Meanwhile, sources say that the arrest of eight Sikh youths in Brampton indicates that Canada could be ready to crack the whip on erring individuals. "The eight were found in possession of firearms. It doesn't imply that they were Khalistani supporters," said a source.

The arrests came after reports of shots being fired in Brampton surfaced. Search operations showed the youth were in possession of firearms.

Apparently, the information about these youths came from a local gurdwara. All those arrested are aged 19-26 years and have been charged with "possession of loaded or prohibited or restricted firearm." Reports indicated that the arrests could be a larger part of a drugs and illegal weapons cartel.

These arrests are in line with what External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar said in the US recently. "Canada has been permissive towards terrorists and extremists. I am in a safe position to say that Indian diplomats are unsafe and threatened in Canada, where going to missions is a challenge (which is why we had to stop visa issuance). There is a toxic mix of criminals, terrorists and traffickers. They have been operating in Canada because of the compulsions of Canadian politics," said Dr Jaishankar while speaking at Hudson Institute recently.

Various reports have suggested that Khalistani elements in Canada are offering sponsorship for the visas of many youths, but their primary intention is to manipulate these individuals into advancing their Khalistan-related goals within the Canadian territory.

Khalistani separatist Hardeep Singh Nijjar, whose killing has led to a diplomatic spat between India and Canada, and other individuals like Moninder Singh Bual, Parminder Pangli, Bhagat Singh Brar have been using the lured Sikh youths to carry out their pro-Khalistan agenda from Canadian soil.

UJJWALA YOJANA SCHEME

- Gehlot Govt gives LPG cylinders at ₹500 to 76 lakh families
- ₹600 per cylinder for Ujjwala beneficiaries across the nation after the Centre's two consecutive price cuts since August

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Jaipur/Bhopal

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday hit out at the Ashok Gehlot government in Rajasthan over exam paper leaks, corruption and law and order, saying it cared only for its "vote bank" and not the people of Rajasthan. In his third rally in a fortnight in poll-bound Rajasthan, Modi recalled the communal violence in Jodhpur last year and accused the Congress government of appeasement.

"When Jodhpur was burning during the riots, what was the chief minister doing? When there was violence here and innocent people were being killed, what was the Congress doing," he asked. The rally was held at Ravan-ka-Chabutara grounds in Gehlot's Sardarpura assembly constituency in Jodhpur — a BJP's show of strength on the CM's home turf.

Earlier, at a different venue, the PM launched development projects worth about ₹5,000 crore. In another significant announcement, the PM said that the Centre would now offer gas cylinders under the Ujjwala scheme at a reduced price of just ₹600. "With this announcement, all sisters will celebrate festivals with more enthusiasm." He said the decision would benefit women across the nation, including the 70 lakh families residing in Rajasthan.

However, the Gehlot government provides gas cylinders to 76 lakh beneficiary families of the Ujjwala scheme at ₹500 each. The Prime Minister also revisited the 'Lal Diary' episode and asked, "Will the Congress government allow the secrets of the diary to be revealed? If we want to uncover this secret, we must bring a BJP government to power."

Highlighting paper leaks, the PM said the paper leak mafia of the Congress jeopardised the future of countless youth. "The youth of Rajasthan are demanding justice. The BJP government will take the strictest action against every such paper leak mafia and will bring employment to Rajasthan." In a rally in Jabalpur on his ninth visit to Madhya Pradesh in six months, he lashed out at the previous Congress-led regime at the Centre, for corruption. The PM's rally took place in the Gond tribe-dominated Mahakoshal region to mark the 500th birth anniversary of Rani Durgavati.

Govt misusing agencies to target critics: Priyanka

Caste census

Over a recently released report of Bihar caste census, Priyanka said it was found that 84 per cent of the population comprises OBCs, Dalits and STs, still the BJP is keeping quite over the demand for appropriate representation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

ACCUSING the Prime Minister Narendra Modi-led National Democratic Alliance (NDA) government in Centre of "misusing" the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and other investigating agencies to "target critics of his government", Congress national general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra on Thursday questioned why similar action wasn't being initiated against those "involved in more than 250 scams" taking place in Madhya Pradesh during the last 18 years.

Addressing an election rally in BJP-ruled MP's tribal-dominated Dhar district, she alleged, "In the last 18 years, the scams haven't left any sphere, be it the nutrition of children, mid-day meals, Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan, student scholarships, recruitment exams, construction of dams or even Narmada and the Mahakal Lok temple corridor in Ujjain. More than 250 scams happened in 18 years."

Priyanka said the state saw the Vyapam scam that involved the death of over 50 persons, but still "not probed" properly. "Agencies like ED are being sent to those who speak or write against those in power. Even film actors are being hounded. But why didn't the ED reach those linked to the of scams?" she questioned.

Raising the issue of unemployment, she claimed that the job aspirants were 20-21 years old when they started appearing in competitive examinations, but now have turned 30 after repeatedly appearing in the exams as either the "results were not declared or cancelled due to scams".

"Unemployment in the state is touching a peak as 70,000 posts of teachers are vacant, 75 per cent of positions in universities are lying vacant, 90 per cent vacancies of doctors, physicians, surgeons, gynecologists, pediatricians are unfilled in government health centres. There is not even a single ophthalmologist [eye specialist] at any CHCs across the state," she alleged.

Priyanka said that Modi has been shying away from taking CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan's name. "I've been listening to the PM's speeches, in 50 minutes he talks about Congress 50 times...a small suggestion... tell what development was ushered, how many scamsters were put in jail," she said.

Simultaneous polls for ULBs, panchayats?

The term of urban local bodies (ULBs) in J&K will come to an end in November this year. The five-year term of panchayats will also end in December. But there is no clarity as to whether panchayat polls and urban local body elections are to be held simultaneously in the Union Territory this year. The last panchayat polls in J&K were held on non-party basis in 2018. National Conference and People's Democratic Party had boycotted the election. It was expected that the ULB polls would be held by the end of this year. Sources said the government is now thinking of deferring the polls due to security concerns.

Water zorbing at Dal Lake was introduced by entrepreneur Sheikh Yamin with the support of the tourism department. It aims to diversify the options of adventure activities while prioritising the safety of participants.

Wait list abolished for PSC recruitment

In a significant decision, the Lieutenant Governor administration in Jammu and Kashmir government has done away with the provision of preparing waiting lists for recruitment in government departments. The government issued three separate notifications to repeal the rules, mandating recruiting agencies such as Public Service Commission and Services Selection Board to prepare a wait list for filling dropout vacancies for each job. The wait list's purpose was to consider the candidates of the wait list against "drop out" candidates. The change in policy reflects a new approach to recruitment in various departments.

ASI granted four more weeks for Gyanvapi survey

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Varanasi district court on Thursday granted four more weeks to the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) to complete the ongoing scientific survey on the premises of Gyanvapi mosque complex and submit its report by November 6. The court allowed ASI four more weeks on the condition that the duration of the survey would not extend beyond this.

According to UP government counsel Rajesh Mishra, Varanasi District Judge Dr Ajay Krishna Vishvesh accepted the plea of ASI, which had moved court on Wednesday seeking four more weeks to complete the survey of the Gyanvapi mosque complex.

The ASI, which was supposed to submit the report of the survey by October 6 after getting previous extension of four weeks, now has time till November 6 to do the same.

On September 8, the court had granted the first extension of four weeks to the ASI to complete the court-ordered scientific survey of the Gyanvapi mosque premises and submit a report. The ASI in an application filed on September 2 had sought eight weeks, but the court had granted four weeks, dismissing the petition.

ED raids house of TMC minister over recruitment scam

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) on Thursday carried out raids at the houses of food and supplies minister Rathin Ghosh on the outskirts of Kolkata and 12 other places linked to the functionaries of TMC-dominated civic bodies around the state capital in connection with recruitment scam in municipalities.

The central agency probing the laundering of the proceeds of the recruitment scam, conducted the raids simultaneously. Other locations raided by the ED include residences of Kamarhati municipality chairman and Baranagar municipality chairman, houses of deputy head of South Dum Dum civic body and former head Panchu Roy. A total of 15 municipalities are under the scanner of the central agencies in connection with the recruitment scam following an order passed by the Calcutta High Court this year.

Ghosh is the former chairman of Madhyamgram municipality in north 24 Parganas and he is accused of involvement in a scam to recruit unqualified candidates in the civic body in exchange of bribe.

According to sources in the ED, Ghosh's name surfaced after it seized incriminating documents from an agency outsourced by various municipalities in the state to carry out recruitment process, which revealed significant irregularities in recruitment procedures in Madhyamgram municipality during 2014 and 2018.

"The agency is owned by a TMC-backed promoter, Ayan Sil, who presently in judicial custody. While conducting raids and search operations at Sil's apartment in March this year in connection with irregularities in recruitment in state-aided primary schools, we first came cross leads related to multi-crore civic bodies' recruitment scam," said an official.

Impetus to farming: Yogi govt plans to make Krishi Kumbh 2.0 a global event

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CHIEF Minister Yogi Adityanath has decided to organise the second edition of Krishi Kumbh (agriculture fair) in the coming December. The earlier edition, a first-of-its-kind, was held in 2018, a year after the BJP government came to power in Uttar Pradesh.

According to a government official, the aim is to make farmers from across the country and the world familiar with the state's agriculture and its practices and enhance their technical awareness, new agricultural technologies and innovations.

New farming and agricultural practices in various countries, including Japan, Israel, Germany and the US, will also be displayed and taught.

The discussions will be held on challenges related to cow-based natural farming, climate change preparedness, encouragement for sustainable agriculture, entrepreneurship based on FPOs, cost reduction in farming, and efforts to increase the contribution of the agriculture sector in making the state a one trillion dollar economy.

Various agriculture techniques through lectures, demonstrations and agricultural exhibitions will be showcased.

Recently, at a meeting presided over by Adiyanath, it was decided to make possible participation of two lakh farmers in the fare. He has also instructed authorities to invite esteemed national and international agricultural companies and organisations, agricultural universities, agricultural science centres, and progressive farmers to the event.

In the first Krishi Kumbh, over 300 companies and organisations took part and the event generated revenue of around ₹2 crore. The event will be organised at the Indian Sugarcane Research Institute in Lucknow.

State of affairs: U'khand jails bursting at the seams

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE condition of jails in Uttarakhand has deteriorated over the years. Currently there are 192 per cent prisoners in the state's jails. This was reveled at a meeting of Jail Development Board held recently at state secretariat in Dehardun.

There are 7,181 prisoners lodged in the state's jails against the capacity of 3,741. Jail officials said the construction of new jails of Pithoragarh and Udham Singh Nagar would have to be expedited to stop overcrowding, to some extent.

Deputy Inspector General of Uttarakhand (Jails) Dadhiram Maurya said four districts of the state — Uttarkashi, Rudraprayag, Champawat and Bageshwar — do not have prisons, which is why the pressure of prisoners from these districts comes to other jails in the state. "Besides, prisoners from other states are sent to the existing jails, adding to the overcrowding of Uttarakhand jails," said Maurya.

There are 11 active jails in the state, including seven district jails and two sub-jails. "There is an open jail in Sitarganj. Most of these prisons date back to the British era," said the officer.

"There are 297 CCTVs installed in the three major district jails of the state -- Dehradun, Haridwar and Roorkee. More CCTV installation is going on in the remaining jails, including Tehri, Pauri, Haldwani, Sitarganj and other low-capacity jails," said the DIG, adding currently, 648 CCTVs are installed in all other jails of the state.

"A high number of prisoners are lodged in Dehradun, Haridwar and Roorkee as well as in Haldwani. A comprehensive plan is being prepared towards taking immediate action at the government level to solve it," said Maurya.

Uttarakhand has seven district jails, two sub-jails and a central jail besides the under-construction jails at Pithoragarh and Udham Singh Nagar.

Acknowledging the problem of overcrowding in the jail, DIG (Jails) Maurya said due to the recently allocated budget of Rs 10 crore from the state government, the work is now on in the under-construction jails of the state." "Yoga, meditation and other creative activities are encouraged so that the prisoners are reformed while serving the sentence," Maurya said.

The government's decision to expedite the work on several jails comes after the Nainital High Court directed the state government to set up a Prison Development Board. A division bench of Chief Justice Vipin Sanghi and Justice Rakesh Thapliyal passed the order while hearing a PIL on the lack of CCTV cameras, accommodation and other facilities in the state jails.

"The government has told the court that many new jails are being built across the state. A doctor and psychologist will also be hired in jails on a contract basis to supervise the physical and mental conditions of prisoners," said Maurya.

NORWAY'S JON FOSSE GETS NOBEL LIT PRIZE FOR INNOVATIVE PLAYS

STOCKHOLM

NORWAY'S Jon Fosse, whose plays are among the most widely staged of any contemporary playwright in the world, won the Nobel Prize in Literature on Thursday.

Sometimes compared to Samuel Beckett, another Nobel-winning playwright, Fosse's work is minimalistic, relying on simple language which delivers its message through rhythm, melody and silence.

The Swedish Academy said the 64-year-old was honoured for his "innovative plays and prose which give voice to the unsayable."

"Fosse presents everyday situations that are instantly recognisable in our own lives. His radical reduction of language and dramatic action expresses the most powerful human emotions of anxiety and powerlessness in the simplest terms," the jury said.

"I am overwhelmed and grateful. I see this as an award to the literature that first and foremost aims to be literature, without other considerations," Fosse said. Speaking to Norwegian broadcaster NRK, he said he was "surprised but also not," after his name had been mentioned in Nobel speculation for several years.

Fosse's oeuvre, written in Nynorsk—a written form of Norwegian used by 10% of the population—spans a variety of genres and consists of plays, novels, poetry collections, essays, children's books and translations.

Norwegian Prime Minister Jonas Gahr Store hailed the win as "a great recognition of an outstanding body of work" that "moves people all over the world."

The chairman of the Nobel committee, Anders Olsson, told reporters Fosse had come to be regarded as an innovator through his "ability to evoke man's loss of orientation, and how this paradoxically can provide access to a deeper experience, close to divinity."

His major works include Boathouse (1989), which was well-received by critics, and Melancholy I and II (1995-1996).

Born among the fjords of western Norway, Fosse is usually seen clad in black with a few days' stubble. He grew up in a family which followed a strict form of Lutheranism and rebelled by playing in a band and declaring himself an atheist. He ended up converting to Catholicism in 2013.

After studying literature, he made his debut in 1983 with the novel Red, Black which moves back and forth in time and between perspectives.

His latest book, Septology, a semi-autobiographical magnum opus—seven parts spread across three volumes about a man who meets another version of himself—runs to 1,250 pages without a single full stop. The third volume was shortlisted for the 2022 International Booker Prize. AFP

Russian attack on cafe kills 51, as Zelenskyy seeks Western support

A rocket struck a village cafe in east Ukraine where about 60 people had gathered for a wake

KYIV

A Russian rocket struck a village cafe and store in eastern Ukraine on Thursday, killing at least 51 civilians in one of the deadliest attacks in the war in months, according to President Volodymyr Zelenskyy and other top officials in Kyiv.

Zelenskyy, attending a summit of about 50 European leaders in Spain to drum up support from Ukraine's allies, denounced the strike in the village of Hroza as a "demonstrably brutal Russian crime" and "a completely deliberate act of terrorism."

About 60 people were in the cafe, attending a wake after a funeral, said Internal Affairs Minister Ihor Klymenko, who provided the death toll.

Among the dead was a 6-year-old boy, and seven other persons were wounded, said presidential chief of staff Andrii Yermak and Kharkiv Gov. Oleh Syniehubov.

The village was hit by an Iskander missile. Emergency crews searched the rubble of damaged buildings. Ukrainian prosecutors released photos showing bloodied bodies.

Hroza, which had a population of about 500 before the war, is located in the northeastern Kharkiv region. The village and other parts of the region were seized by Russia early in the war and recaptured by Ukraine in September 2022.

On Thursday, Zelenskyy was at a summit of the European Political Community in Granada, Spain, where he asked for more Western support, saying that "Russian terror must be stopped."

"Russia needs this and similar terrorist attacks for only one thing: to make its genocidal aggression the new norm for the whole world," he said. "Now we are talking with European leaders, in particular, about strengthening our air defence, strengthening our soldiers, giving our country protection from terror. And we will respond to the terrorists."

Earlier Thursday, Russia targeted Ukraine's southern regions with drones. Ukraine's air force said that the country's air defences intercepted 24 out of 29 Iranian-made drones that Russia launched at Odesa, Mykolaiv and Kirovohrad.

Meanwhile, the UK Foreign Office cited intelligence suggesting that Russia may lay sea mines in the approach to Ukrainian ports to target civilian shipping and blame it on Ukraine.

"Russia almost certainly wants to avoid openly sinking civilian ships, instead falsely laying blame on Ukraine for any attacks against civilian vessels in the Black Sea," teh foreign office said, adding that the UK was working with Ukraine to help improve the safety of shipping. AP

B'desh graft watchdog quizzes Nobel laureate Yunus

DHAKA

BANGLADESH'S official anti-graft watchdog Anti-corruption Commission on Thursday questioned Muhammad Yunus, who was awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 2006, involving charges of money laundering and fund embezzlement.

Yunus pioneered the use of microcredit to help impoverished people in Bangladesh—a model replicated in many other countries across the world, but he has fallen out with PM Sheikh Hasina, who has accused him of "sucking blood" from the poor.

He is facing around 175 separate criminal and labour tribunal cases related to social business firms he set up in Bangladesh aimed at creating jobs and bringing services to the poor. "I have not committed any offence," Yunus said. "I am not scared."

Yunus and seven officials of Grameen Telecom, a social business firm he founded, are accused of money laundering and embezzling $2.3 million, according to charges filed by the commission in May.

He faces up to 12 years in jail if convicted.

Another case against Yunus

Muhammad Yunus | AP

is currently at trial with the next hearing scheduled for October 11. His lawyers have insisted he is innocent of all charges against him.

Defence lawyer Abdullah al Mamun said Yunus had to cut short his trip to United Nations headquarters in New York to attend the hearing.

Khaja Tanvir Ahmed, another lawyer for Yunus, said he was interrogated for more than an hour in the office. "These cases are all part of the continuous harassment against Nobel laureate Professor Muhammad Yunus," he added.

In August, 160 global figures including former US president Barack Obama and ex-UN secretary-general Ban Ki-moon published a joint letter against the "continuous judicial harassment" of the micro-credit pioneer. Agencies

Google buys peace, to reform data in Germany

BERLIN

GOOGLE will now give its users a better control on how the tech giant will processes the users information as per the commitments undertaken by Google, Germany's Federal Cartel Office (FCO), national regulatory said in a press release.

The decision of Google is the result of a chargesheet known as a statement of objections issued by FCO, German antitrust watchdog, to Google in January. It reached preliminary conclusion that, based on the current terms, users are not given sufficient choice as to whether and to what extent they agree to this far-reaching processing of their data across services.

According to FCO, Google will now have to provide its users with the possibility to give free, specific, informed and unambiguous consent to the processing of their data across services. The commitments concern situations where the firm would like to combine personal data from one Google service with personal data from other Google or non-Google sources or cross-use these data in Google services that are provided separately.

Andreas Mundt, President of the FCO, said, "In the future, users of Google services will have a much better choice as to what happens to their data, how Google can use them and whether their data may be used across services.

Deregister planes: Go First lessors

Exempting aircraft, engines, airframe from bankruptcy code may help lessors repossess planes

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

GO FIRST lessors on Thursday moved the Delhi High Court and demanded the de-registration of their aircraft leased to the grounded airline following the latest changes made in the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA).

The MCA on Wednesday notified that aircraft, engines and airframes are exempted from moratorium under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016. Legal counsel appearing for the lessors told the court about the urgent need to deregister the aircraft as the government has made their stand. They also asked the court to direct the civil aviation regulator, the Director General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), to state their stand on the issue.

A lawyer representing the DGCA told the court they would stand by the order that the it would pass. The Delhi High Court has deferred the hearing to October 19. Go First's resolution professional (RP) sought time to examine the MCA notification and said that they would consult the same with the Committee of Creditors (CoC). The court granted this request.

The MCA in its latest notification said Section 14(1) of the IBC, which enforces a moratorium on insolvency proceedings, would no longer apply to transactions, arrangements, or agreements concerning aircraft, aircraft engines, airframes, and helicopters.

Legal experts believe this development would impact the blanket moratorium, which took place in May. This has prevented Go First lessors from repossessing their aircraft. The lessors have argued that the moratorium was breaching the Cape Town Convention and Protocol of 2001, to which India is a participant.

IndiGo domestic, international tickets to get costlier

NEW DELHI: IndiGo, country's largest airline, is introducing a fuel charge of up to ₹1,000 on domestic and international routes, effective 00:01hrs October 6, 2023. This will make flying expensive for passengers. Under this pricing structure, passengers booking IndiGo flights will incur a fuel charge, per sector, based on the sector distance. The decision follows the significant increase in Aviation Turbine Fuel (ATF) prices, which have surged in the last three months with consecutive price hikes every month, the airline said. ENS

Crude oil prices decline to $85 a barrel on demand fall

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

CRUDE prices in the international market fell for the second consecutive day on Thursday as weak demand for gasoline from the US.

Brent Crude Future on October 5, 2023, was trading at $85.45 a barrel while the US WTI was trading at $84.38 a barrel at 8.11 pm IST. This is nearly 12% below from its last week high of $97 a barrel. Oil price witnessed its biggest one-day drop of more than $5 on Wednesday in over a year. The decline is also attributed to the reports that Russia might soon lift its ban on diesel exports.

However, Russia and Saudi Arabia are continuing to maintain their voluntary oil production cuts. As per the OPEC+ ministerial panel, Saudi Arabia would continue with a voluntary cut of 1 million barrels per day (bpd) until the end of 2023, while Russia would keep a 300,000 bpd export curb until the end of December. Crude oil prices have been trading above $90 per barrel in recent weeks.

Petroleum and Natural Gas minister Hardeep Singh Puri on Wednesday said rising crude oil prices could create organised chaos and devastation in several parts of the world. The minister, in an interview with a news channel at the ADIPEC oil and gas conference in Abu Dhabi, said the price of $100 a barrel is not in the interest of either the producing countries or the consumers.

The ministermet OPEC Secretary General Haitham Al-Ghais and urged him to use his office to imbue a sense of pragmatism, balance, and affordability in the oil markets.

The minister said that the prices of around $80 per barrel or slightly less than that would be a convenient price range for countries. "If the price goes above $100, it is not going to be in the interest of either the producing country or anyone's interest. You will have large, organised chaos," he said in an interview to a news channel.

Issue of GST on redevelopment may get deferred

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THOUGH the issue of goods and services tax (GST) on services related to redevelopment projects by cooperative societies is on the agenda of the GST Council meeting on October 7.

Sources say the issue is unlikely to be discussed in the meeting. As per highly placed sources, the Group of Ministers (GoM) formed in 2019 to address real estate issues has not yet submitted its report to the Council. The issue is expected to be deferred once again, as it has been in the past.

"High chances are there that the issue of imposing GST on services related to redevelopment projects by cooperative societies will not be taken up in the meeting on Saturday, as the GoM hasn't yet submitted its report to the Council," a highly placed source told this newspaper. The issue has been contentious as experts say the GST can't be levied on transfer on development rights. As per them, Schedule 3 of the CGST Act says land and buildings are neither goods nor services, hence going by this rule, transfer of development rights should not be made subject to GST.

"The moot point before the court is whether transfer of development rights is akin to sale of land and hence should be excluded from the purview of GST. The issue is whether a notification could prescribe the point of taxation to tax something that is not taxable as per the statutory framework", said Abhishek A Rastogi, founder of Rastogi Chambers, who is arguing matters on this issue before high courts. "The effect in most of the joint development agreements is that the part of the land gets transferred from the land owner to the developer and hence the basic objective is the barter of transfer of land with under construction services", added Rastogi.

Service tax has been paid at the time of transfer of property, hence at the time of supply of redeveloped flats for free, no GST should be levied, argue experts. Pritam Mahure, GST expert, quoted Vasantha Green case (Vasantha Green Projects vs. CCT), where the Hyderabad Bench of the Customs, Excise, and Service Tax Appellate Tribunal (CESTAT) ruled that service tax can't be imposed on the consideration received from land owners in the form of land rights. This decision was made as the cost of acquiring land had already been subject to service tax from prospective buyers.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA and Abu Dhabi's Al Etihad Payments (AEP) on Thursday signed an agreement for cross-border transactions.

NPCI International Payments Limited (NIPL), a wholly-owned subsidiary of the National Payments Corporation of India(NPCI), has entered in to a strategic partnership with Al Etihad Payments to implement the UAE's national domestic card scheme. RuPay cards, widely used in India, cover debit, credit, and prepaid options, with over 750 million cards currently in circulation. NIPL will aid AEP in formulating operating regulations for their domestic card scheme. India's Digital Public Infrastructure (DPI) comprises digital identity, digital payments, and digital data exchange layers.

Indus Tower could restrict services to VIL due to non-payment

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a major setback to Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL), Indus Tower has said it could restrict its services for Vodafone Idea as the latter has defaulted on its payments, causing it serious financial constraints and landing it in a precarious situation.

The tower company, in a letter dated October 3, 2023, to the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI), said: "In case of Vi continuing to breach its payment obligations, Indus will not only have recourse to all lawful remedies but also be entitled to mitigate its losses by restricting its services for Vi." The letter has been written by Indus managing director Prachur Sah. Vodafone Idea owes ₹7,864.5 crore (inclusive of interest) as of September 30, 2023 to Indus Tower. As per the letter, due to inability of Vodafone Idea to make payments, Indus Towers couldn't declare dividends to its shareholders for the first time since its listing.

"The company has been pursuing payments since early 2022 and even made a one-time settlement agreement with VIL in February 2022 as a gesture of goodwill. However, despite this, Vodafone Idea has persistently defaulted on payments, breaching agreements, reads the letter. In September 2022, Vodafone Idea committed to making timely and complete payments towards the overdue amount, including interest, from January to July 2023, with a minimum committed amount of ₹500 crore each month.

Meanwhile, Vi cleared dues of ₹1,0701 crore to the Department of Telecom (DoT) with regard to the 2022 spectrum auction installment. The company's total gross debt (excluding lease liabilities and including interest accrued but not due) as of June 30, 2023, stood at ₹2,11,760 crore. Vi has been trying to raise funds from the market for the past few years but failed to get any.

SAT quashes Sebi order against NDTV founders Prannoy and Radhika Roy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

IN a relief for former promoters of NDTV, the Securities Appellate Tribunal (SAT) on Thursday quashed a SEBI order that barred Prannoy Roy and Radhika Roy from the securities market for two years in an insider trading case.

In November 2020, Sebi prohibited Roys from the securities market for two years and also directed them to disgorge illegal gains of more than Rs 16.97 crore for indulging in the insider trading case. The directions followed a probe conducted by the markets regulator between September 2006 and June 2008 wherein violations of insider trading regulations were found. SAT in its order said that the information around which the trades were done by the Roys was not price-sensitive information. SAT even noted that Prannoy Roy and Radhika Roy are not insiders.

The Roys had secured pre-trade clearance from the Compliance Officer of NDTV and therefore, the trades executed by these two individuals were in conformity with the NDTV Code of Conduct and the PIT (Prohibition of Insider Trading) Regulations, the tribunal said.

"There is no finding in the impugned order to the effect that the Compliance Office had acted improperly in granting permission to these entities to sell during the period when the trading window was closed," a bench consisting of Justice Tarun Agarwala and presiding officer Meera Swarup said in their order passed on Thursday.

Consequently, the appellate tribunal said that "the impugned order passed by the WTM (Whole Time Member) against Prannoy Roy and Radhika Roy cannot be sustained". However, the appellate tribunal partly set aside an order against Vikramaditya Chandra, the group's chief executive officer during the relevant period, and remitted the matter back to Sebi to decide the issue.

Perfios, a real-time credit-decisioning platform, secured a $229 million in a series D round led by Kedaara Capital in Q3.

The report added that banking tech received funding of $282 million in Q3, which is a growth of 396% compared to the quarter ago period. The quarter saw seven acquisitions, a drop of 12% from eight acquisitions in the year-ago period. Zaggle and Veefin went public in Q3 2023, and Bengaluru emerged as the leader in total fintech funding raised during Q3 2023, followed by Mumbai and Noida. Peak XV Partners, Y Combinator and Accel were the top investors in the space. Y Combinator, 9Unicorns and Upsparks Capital led the seed investments, while Accel, Elevation and Lightspeed Venture Partners were prominent in early-stage investments, the report added. Hitachi, Ashok Leyland working on 20 second charging for electric buses

VAITHEESWARAN B @ Chennai

SWITZERLAND-based heavy electric equipment major Hitachi Energy is testing a flash-charging solution for electric buses in the country, along with Ashok Leyland, which would allow buses to charge within 20 seconds.

The company is involved in operational testing with two charging stations at IIT Madras Campus in Chennai. The company is in the final stages of development of the technology and looking to localise the technology and scale up the model across the globe.

This will enable e-buses to charge in-between bus stops, while the passengers are boarding and also allow buses to carry more passengers due to reduced battery load.

Buses will get a boost up charge in less than 20 seconds, said N Venu, MD and CEO of Hitachi Energy (India & SE Asia). It is in pilot stage and there are plans to operationalise this technology in a few months and focus is on localizing the technology, he added.

It will minimise charging time and maximize usage, Claudio Facchin, chief executive of Hitachi Energy. It has developed Grid-eMotion technology for large-scale public transport and commercial fleets in 2013 and its commercially operational in Geneva. "Focus is on grid, transmission part in Grid-eMotion technology and we're also focusing on depo charging for long-haul buses and optimising loads at consumption points in the existing grids."

Veteran Ghosal signs off with silver medal

THE presence of Saurav Ghosal at multi-discipline events, like the seasons, is a constant. After making his debut in Doha in 2006 as a teen, Ghosal, now 37, the squash player has won almost everything. Inside the glass cage at the Hangzhou Squash Centre on Thursday evening, the Indian player was hunting for the one medal he needed to complete the collection — men's singles gold at the Asian Games.

That feeling of yearning remained with him 72 minutes later. Malaysia's Ng Eain Yow, after losing the first game, won too many of the big points to seal the final 9-11, 11-9, 11-5, 11-7. "The one medal I really wanted," he said after the match. "I had put in everything. Don't know if I'm going to have another shot (at winning the title). Very sad and disappointed. I guess if this is the last one, I can be proud. I gave it everything."

While he has won team gold at the Asian Games (Incheon and last week), singles has caused him a lot of heart-ache. Third in Doha, Guangzhou and Jakarta and second in Incheon when he was a point away from wearing a shiny yellow disc around his neck. It's something he nameschecked. "It's a difficult question to answer now (has he played his last Asian Games)," he said. "The emotions are very raw. I don't know myself whether I'm done or whether I'm going to be playing for three more years. It's a decision to be made when things are a little more calmer. After giving 90% of my life to this game... don't think it would be fair on the game to make that decision right now."

In a final dominated by long rallies and some questionable decisions, the momentum turned in the middle of the second game. After Ghosal had won the first stanza, he was looking to put a stamp of authority to proceedings. However, that's when things started sliding south. Over a five-minute period, all the 50-50 'let' calls went the way of the Malaysian. After trying to argue with the judges, Ghosal only opted to stare at the judge instead. "It's not easy (getting back the focus after playing long rallies only for it to be ruled as a let)," he said.

DRAGON SPITS FIRE

Home spectators have made their presence felt in ongoing Games with loud noise, sometimes making it hot and cold for India too

POCKETS of the Hangzhou Olympic Sports Centre Stadium started chanting as one. "Yindu Jaiyou". It roughly translates to Go India. Tejaswin Shankar was at the start of the home straight, 100m away from the finish line of the 1500m in the men's decathlon. It was the last of the gruelling 10-event discipline and the crowd cheered him on. He was in third place and was about to win silver. His main challenger for gold — China's Sun Qihao — was well in front after the first nine events. But Qihao was bringing up the rear in that same race. So, it was kind of surprising to see the spectators roar the Indian home. In the end, it didn't matter as Qihao, who finished 24 seconds behind Tejaswin, took the gold.

However, broadly speaking, the reception Indian athletes have gotten from Hangzhou and elsewhere hasn't been this warm. Tejaswin's was the exception and not the norm. When India's athletes walked out during the Opening Ceremony, the reception from the 80,000 capacity crowd was, to put it mildly, muted. Even before any of the athletes had kicked a ball in anger, there was escalating political tensions between the countries over the issue of non-accreditation to three players from Arunachal Pradesh (all of them were given stapled visas).

But the coldness has stretched to even when they have faced non-Chinese athletes. The best example was the women's table tennis doubles semifinals. After stunning local favourites, Chen Meng and Wang Yidi, Ayhika Mukherjee and Sutirtha Mukherjee (unrelated) faced the North Korean duo of Suyong Cha and Sugyong Pak. For some context, table tennis fans in China don't hope. They expect. They don't dream that their players will win. They are certain that their players will win. That isn't even an exaggeration. Since its inception into the Olympics programme at Seoul in 1988, there has been a total of 37 gold; China have won 32. The subtext is simple — you either win gold or you go home.

Coming back to the match against the North Koreans, the crowd had made it personal to see the back of the Mukherjees. There was constant cheering for the North Korean duo and whenever the Indians hit a few winners, the crowd fell silent. "We have come to expect this," was how coach Mamata Prabhu later summed up the reaction of the crowd. "The sound was louder when we played China so it was not a problem."

Watching Chinese fans go about their business and there's a lesson in there somewhere to spectators elsewhere. They just don't turn against their own; if anything, they try to make the atmosphere more intimidating. At the Binjiang Gymnasium on October 1, their men's badminton team was toiling against India in the final. Trailing 0-2, there was more than just gold at stake. History and loss of bragging rights to a country that had never tasted gold in this sport at this level. Giant-clappers were summoned, inflatable sticks were banged against each other and 'Jaiyou' was chanted on repeat, like a broken record. While India's players would have been used to such an atmosphere — some of them have played in China before — the wall of noise can still be disconcerting. South Korea's Woojin Jang, who faced China's Fan Zhendong (a table tennis God around these parts) in the final, was left shaken by the experience of having to shut out the crowd who were baying for his blood. "I was afraid," he would say in the mixed zone after taking a game off Zhendong. "To play him in China is tougher... in an atmosphere like this."

Some of the cricketers, who are currently here, left the men's team final before China started clawing their way back into the encounter. One of them said: "the atmosphere was nuts". This cricketer has played in front of full crowds but found the noise level "up there". As soon as Kidambi Srikanth, who had a game point, squandered it, the crowd did their thing. Before long, the hosts had won 3-2.

Some Chinese, though, travelled to watch Indians. One of them went to the far-flung cricket stadium to catch Smriti Mandhana. He had even made a poster, calling her a "Goddess".

On Thursday, there was another clash between the two countries. In the semifinals of the women's hockey, the hosts beat India 4-0, another inescapable theme of the Games most times there has been a direct clash in a key game.

China have come out on top.

Take a bow! Compound archers soar

A world-record holder. World champions. Now, Asian Games champions. India's compound archers have been hitting 10s for months now. Their purple patch is such that they will find it harder to miss than to hit the inner 10. 2023 could well go down as the year when the country's super compound archers won the entire lot. However, it wasn't that long ago when India didn't have much of an idea about the format. To the officials, compound may well have been chemistry and not part of archery.

Enter India's now high performance director, Sanjeeva Singh. The year's 2004 and post a trip to the Worlds in New York, he has come back with a single compound bow. "People laughed at me," he said. "They said... 'India has never won recurve, why should we get this?'

"But I knew this was one game that was ideally suited to the Indian archers because we are very low in physique and our physiques are not very strong. So, this game helped all of our junior archers who are shorter in height and who are not big to adopt this game." Even if he was mocked, he persevered because he knew his theory was sound.

It also sort of helped that Sanjeeva knew what he was doing. The Olympian from 1988 won the nationals in 2005. The laughter stopped and people started taking him seriously. Minor Asian medals immediately followed as babysteps towards world domination began earnestly. "We have achieved the best that anyone can achieve."

After wiping the floor in the mixed team event, they once again owned the stage at the Fuyang Yinhu Sports Centre on Thursday. Two gold medals in the men's and women's team events followed, with the former taking down South Korea, who sort of have a patent on the sport. That India kind of went into that match-up as the favourites tells you everything you need to know about the kind of growth story compound archery is on (women beat Chinese Taipei 230-229 while men beat South Korea 235-230). "We are very happy because this is the first time that we have won a gold medal in the Asian Games in the compound women's category," Jyothi Surekha Vennam said.

Rohit & Co toil hard at nets in Chepauk

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @ Chennai

Hardik Pandya (L) & Virat Kohli (C) during a nets session in Chennai | ASHWIN PRASATH

Led by Rohit Sharma with an eye on beginning the World Cup on a winning note, the Indian team had a three-hour strenuous practice session at the MAC 'B' grounds at Chepauk here.

The weather in Chennai has been a bit tricky for the last couple of weeks. It is very hot during the day and rains on most days at night. Keeping this in mind, Rahul Dravid, the chief coach of the national side, put his wards through the paces.

Virat Kohli had a long stint at the nets. He was tested by some hard length deliveries from Mohammed Shami and Hardik Pandya. Meanwhile, Shreyas Iyer batted thrice, on three different occasions, working on various aspects of his batting, especially facing the short-pitched deliveries. In between he had a long session with Dravid where the coach was hitting tennis balls with a raquet above Iyer's shoulders to counter the bouncers. About a week or so back the square that holds the eight odd turfs at the MA Chidambaram stadium had a lush green look with the outfield too with good covering of grass and smooth as usual. The recent rains certainly helped the TNCA markers in maintaining the ground. But on Thursday the deck that would most probably be used for the ODI was brown, flat and dry bereft of any grass.

Focus on Ashwin

Ace off-spinner R Ashwin had a fruitful batting stint at the nets. He used a couple of bats with different weights so as to test and use them in the slog overs. He bowled for a while, and had a relatively longer spell with different batters. Since this is his last ODI World Cup, Ashwin wants to be as useful as possible for the team. Though the debate of the second spinner to play with Ravindra Jadeja is still on, Ashwin could get the nod as he has a terrific record at Chepauk.

Pak roots act as dampener but Dutch Shariz ready for his World Cup debut

FIROZ MIRZA @ Hyderabad

Shariz Ahmad | VINAY MADAPU

IT'S not just the Pakistan cricket team that faced delay in getting their visas before finally reaching the country to feature in the 2023 ODI World Cup which started in the country on Thursday. Even those with roots in Pakistan are facing issues like legbreak bowler of Netherlands, Shariz Ahmad. The 20-year-old is on his first visit to India and set to be the leader of the Netherlands' spin attack as he is the most experienced specialist tweaker in the squad with 11 ODIs and 9 T20Is under his belt. His elder brother Musa has also played 13 ODIs for the Dutch.

Given the enormity of the occasion, Shariz wanted to have his family, especially his father Nadeem Ahmad and Musa, in the stands when his team plays Pakistan in their World Cup opener here at the Rajiv Gandhi International Cricket Stadium, Uppal in Hyderabad on Friday. But their Pakistan connection seemed to have spoiled Shariz's plan. "Unfortunately, they will not be coming to India. There are a lot of issues with visas because of the Pakistani background which will take too long, it is a pity, but they will be supporting from home," southpaw Shariz told this daily on being questioned about his family's visit to India for the World Cup matches. Shariz's father shifted from Lahore to Amsterdam back in 1995 with a hope of gaining financial solidity. He might have left Pakistan but continued his unwavering love for cricket and even played in the top division of the Netherlands' domestic circuit. The father's undaunting love for the game meant both Shariz and Musa also inclined towards it despite getting initiated into sports through football. The Pakistani roots make Netherlands' first match against Pakistan even more special for Shariz. "It will be a very special match for us as a group. It will be the opening game for us in a massive tournament and we will look to start with a bang. It will be very special for me personally as well because it's against Pakistan where I've got a lot of family and my parents are from there. They all will be watching the game and I'm sure they would love me to do well against Pakistan," said Shariz.

But whom his family, especially, the father will support when the two teams square off against each and quick was the reply. "...100% the Dutch, he loves Dutch cricket and has got a lot of interest in our cricket so I'm pretty sure he'll be rooting for us."

Speaking about the passion the sport generates in his family, Shariz said it's massive as it helps them bring them closer. "We watch cricket together, we enjoy each other's successes, we learn from each other and we try to make each other better. My dad and my older brother Musa are really important for me in my cricket. They both have worked very hard for me to be where I am now, and I have a lot to thank them for. Musa and myself are on the phone together a lot and we share each other's sessions and speak about what we feel like we should work on and what is going well."

Netherlands will be playing their first World Cup since 2011. Playing the marquee event after such a long gap, Shariz has his goal for the tournament. "My goal for the tournament is to win games for my team, to make sure we get to the semis. We are here to win and show the world what Dutch cricket has to offer on the biggest stage," he signed off.
